Tunis Issue Brings Fall Of Gaillard

U. S.-British Plan Rejected, Rightist Groups Seen Victor

BULLETIN

LONDON (AP) — The three Western powers told the Soviet Union today their ambassadors were ready to begin broad scope summit talks preparations in Moscow tomorrow.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fall of France's Gaillard government left State Department officials discouraged today about the chances of settling the French-Tunisian crisis and strengthening anti-Communist elements in North Africa. These officials also were concerned about the impact of Premier Felix Gaillard's loss of power on two other international issues: summit conference negotiations with the Soviet Union and the general problem of French position and prestige within the North Atlantic Alliance.

Rightists Seen Winning

There was some concern that the government which succeeds Gaillard's may be largely in the hands of right-wing, highly nationalistic men with whom it would be even more difficult than in the past to work on some ultimate solutions of the French North African problem.

Gaillard resigned after the French Assembly, by a 321-255 vote, rejected his call for acceptance of a U.S.-British plan for settling France's dispute with Tunisia.

Earlier, Secretary of State Dulles took issue with French criticism that the United States was trying to dominate French policy and to get France out of North Africa.

"The idea that we are operating there in some devious way to take over North Africa in the interest of American corporations is just about as far from the truth as any statement could be," Dulles said.

Hopes For Strife End

Dulles and other top officials would like to see France find some way to end the long and costly fighting in Algeria. Private, many of these officials say that this would undoubtedly mean working toward some form of Algerian self-government.

But French policy, strongly supported by the rightists in this respect, has dealt with Algeria as a part of metropolitan France for which any idea of independence is wholly unacceptable.

Coty Begins Search To Get New Premier

PARIS (AP) — France was back in familiar shape today: no government, a deepening crisis in North Africa and no solution in sight for either.

President Rene Coty began another weary round of political talks in search of someone who might rally enough National Assembly votes to succeed Felix Gaillard as premier.

Gaillard resigned last night after the Assembly voted 321-255 against his call to accept a U.S.-British plan for settlement of France's dispute with Tunisia. The plan called for French-Tunisian negotiations on withdrawal of French troops from all of Tunisia except the Bizerte naval base.

There was no readily apparent successor to the 38-year-old economist. The votes which finally cut him down after five months of cliff-hanging came from the two extremes of French politics, which cannot combine to form the 25th postwar government.

Gaillard's was the second successive government brought down by rightist opposition, led by followers of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, to concessions in North Africa.

Body Of Student Found In River

PRESTONSBURG, Ky. (AP) — The body of Doris Faye Burchett, 15-year-old high school junior from Emma, was recovered today from the Big Sandy river about 1 1/2 miles below the spot where she and 26 other occupants of a school bus drowned Feb. 28.

Doris Faye was the niece of Graham Burchett, who is directing volunteers in the search for the victims. Three youngsters are still missing.

Jersey Vote Seen Boost For Meyner

Williams' Victory In Primary Hikes Governor's Power

By JOHN KOLESAR

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — It will be Harrison A. Williams Jr., youthful former Democratic congressman, against Robert W. Kean, a veteran Republican congressman, in New Jersey's Nov. 4 U.S. Senate election.

Williams, a 38-year-old Westfield lawyer, overcame a 72,000 plurality in Hudson County for his chief rival, Hoboken Mayor John J. Grogan, to win the Democratic primary election yesterday by 12,000 votes.

Labor Backed Grogan

Williams had the support of Gov. Robert B. Meyner and Democratic leaders of 19 of the state's 21 counties. A victory for Grogan, president of the National Shipbuilders Union who was backed by the state AFL and CIO, would have been a blow to Meyner's political prestige and power. Meyner has often been mentioned as a presidential candidate in 1960. Kean, a 64-year-old banker with 18 years in Congress, won a slightly easier victory. He defeated his nearest rival, Bernard M. Shanley, President Eisenhower's former appointments secretary, by 25,000 votes.

The New Jersey senatorial primary was the first in the nation this year.

Williams and Kean will run for the seat being vacated by H. Alexander Smith of Princeton, who decided not to seek re-election. Smith, 78, served 14 years in the Senate.

Meyner Aide Trails

With 89 districts unreported of 4,184 in the state, this was the vote in the Democratic contest: Williams, 148,809; Grogan, 135,894.

Joseph E. McLean, state conservation commissioner in Meyner's Cabinet, was a poor third with 60,903 votes.

In the Republican contest, the vote with 123 districts unreported, was:

Kean, 152,940;

Shanley, 126,416;

Robert Morris, former chief counsel to the U.S. Senate Internal Security subcommittee, ran third with 70,528 votes.

Suez Dispute Move Slated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Western diplomats said today they anticipated a possible major move by Egypt's President Nasser to settle the Suez Canal dispute before he visits Moscow next Monday.

Any such development would be the most important step he has yet taken to patch up his 21-month-old quarrel with the West over his seizure of the Suez waterway.

An agreement by Nasser to give adequate compensation to Suez Canal Co. stockholders would open the way for improved relations with the United States and an end to the financial-economic freeze against his country.

Iran, Russia Sign Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet news agency Tass has announced the signing of an agreement between Iran and Russia which will considerably increase trade between the two countries.

The Americans gave way as the 36-nation parley appeared headed for a stalemate over the territorial issue — its most important task. A two-thirds majority is required for conference approval.

Federal Secrecy Law Slated For Knockout

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to knock out use of a 163-year-old law for federal secrecy comes up for expected overwhelming House passage today.

News industry spokesmen pushed the measure before a Senate Constitutional Rights subcommittee, hoping to win final passage during this session of Congress.

Editor V. M. Newton Jr., heading Sigma Delta Chi journalistic fraternity's Freedom of Information Committee, told the senators reporters have run into a "blanket of secrecy draped over most of the executive government in Washington." Newton is managing editor of the Tampa (Fla.) Tribune.

Chairman Moss (D-Calif.) of the House Government Information subcommittee, piloting the bill in the House, said passage would serve notice that federal secrecy "for capricious or arbitrary reasons cannot be condoned."

Rep. Hoffman (Mich.), the lone subcommittee Republican, said he would fight the measure with administration support on grounds the bill was unconstitutional.

Target of the pending measure by Moss is a 1789 law authorizing department heads to issue regulations for the "custody, preservation and use" of records.

Moss' one-sentence bill would amend the old statute to say it does not authorize withholding information or the availability of records from the public.

The California congressman said the old law was originally intended as a simple administrative housekeeping statute. But he said federal officials have used the law as authority to keep secret some documents they find no other grounds for withholding.

He said his bill is "merely a first step in combating unnecessary executive secrecy."

Bank Robber, Car Thief Added To FBI's "Most Wanted" List

Quay Cleon Kilburn, a bold and cunning criminal who flashed a press card to bluff his way out of prison, has been listed by the FBI as one of its "ten most wanted" fugitives. He replaces convicted murderer Eugene Russell McCracken, captured at Baltimore March 27 as a result of tips supplied by alert citizens.

By JAMES LEE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI today added an "editor-at-large" to its famed list of "ten most wanted" fugitives.

The "most wanted" spotlight was beamed on Quay Cleon Kilburn, 34, a ruthless, smooth-operating criminal of great versatility, whose escape from the Utah State Prison last Oct. 24 was an example of his colossal nerve.

Kilburn, a bank robber and auto thief, utilized his "press card" as editor of the prison newspaper to leave the institution

At the time of his escape, he

Highway Bill Veto Could Be Battle Signal

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, faced with a midnight deadline, acts today on the big $1,800,000,000 highway bill amid predictions "the fur will fly" if he vetoes it.

That forecast came from Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.), chief sponsor of the bill which its backers describe as the most important antirecession measure passed by Congress this year.

But despite recurring rumors predicting a veto, Republican congressional leaders indicated they expected Eisenhower to sign it — though perhaps reluctantly.

Senate Republican Leader Knowledge of California said after a White House conference he believed advantages of the measure outweighed objectionable features in the President's mind.

Gore, in advance of Eisenhower's action on the bill, said the President should have signed it 10 days ago.

"Men could be at work now if he had done so," Gore told a reporter.

Knowledge said the administration's principal objection to the bill centered on a provision fixing the formula for division of state and federal financing during the coming year on primary, secondary and urban federal-aid roads.

The usual formula is 50-50. But under the bill, the federal government would put up $2 to every $1 by the states.

Runaway Couple Found In Texas, Girl Goes Home

DALLAS (AP) — Two teen-agers who fled their suburban Kansas City homes more than a month ago to get married were picked up yesterday after a fight at a service station.

Karen Long Deffenbaugh, 14-year-old blonde daughter of a Johnson County, Kan., dentist, was reunited with her father last night. Dr. David S. Long flew to Dallas in a private plane. He and his daughter left to return home.

Karen's husband of three weeks, 16-year-old Ronnie Deffenbaugh, remained in custody of Dallas juvenile authorities.

Father, Son Die In Blaze

BOSTON (AP) — A father and his baby son perished early today in a flaming apartment house.

Three others trapped by the flames leaped from third-floor windows and were injured.

Dead were Robert Thomas, 27, and his son Bruce, 8 months.

The baby's mother, Arlene Thomas, 23, jumped from a window, struck a telephone pole and suffered two broken arms and severe chest injuries. She is reported in poor condition.

Leonard Guarente, 35, of Revere, visiting his fiancée, also leaped from a top floor apartment, injured more about Stompanato's livelihood.

Break Staged At Ohio Jail, Felon Killed

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Five prisoners broke from the Summit County Jail today. One was captured on the street and another was shot and killed in a home a few blocks away.

They threw hot coffee into the face of a jailer to start their break for freedom, then took two pistols and a riot gun from the jail, said Capt. Charles Capron of the sheriff's office.

A short while later George Huff, 23, of Enadua Way, Calif., was picked up as he walked along the street.

Then officers found Virgil Akers, 21, of Akron, at the home of a girl he had known before being jailed, and shot him down. They said he was holding a gun on the girl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alexander.

Summit Parley Hit By Acheson

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson says President Eisenhower should not attend any summit conference with the Soviets.

The onetime aide to former President Harry S. Truman also said a summit conference would fail unless there is a stronger and more unified Europe.

Acheson made the remarks in a speech to 500 persons at the Ed-Jacobson Memorial Foundation Dinner last night.

Police Claim Proof Stompanato 'Gigolo'

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Even in death, Lana Turner's boy friend interests the police.

Police today continued to delve into the shadowy life of Johnny Stompanato, stabbed to death April 4 by the actress' 14-year-old daughter Cheryl.

The dark, handsome onetime gambler's bodyguard left behind four cartons of personal effects stored in a Beverly Hills warehouse.

The cartons contained signed photographs of Miss Turner, pictures of other beautiful women, and copies of loans which police suffered two broken arms and severe chest injuries. She is reported in poor condition.

Police Chief Clinton Anderson said the Beverly Hills Police Department is interested in learning more about Stompanato's livelihood.

Racket Probe To Delve Into Union's Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee called a score of witnesses today for a probe into alleged juggling of financial records of a Philadelphia Teamsters Union local.

Alleged forgery, kiting of payments to union members, and various misuses of union money all are involved in the tangled financial picture of Local 107 the special committee is trying to unravel.

The committee heard testimony that the kiting of records and forgery of endorsements on six checks drawn on union funds produced profits of $10,291.75 for someone. The checks had been issued by the local's boss, Secretary Treasurer Ray Cohen, a top lieutenant of James R. Hoffa, Teamster international president.

The kiting of payments records was sworn to by James C. Cattan, FBI expert on forgeries.

He cited instances on a list of payments to 127 individuals in which amounts listed were boosted from $6.50 to $600, from $1.25 to $150 and from $3.50 to $350.

In all, he said, he found 16 definite alterations in the list, boosting reported payments from $1,076.25 to $5,080, concealing a profit of $4,003.75 for someone.

Airline Pilots Ready To Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Pilots were ready today to strike against American Airlines at one minute before midnight.

The walkout deadline has been set by the Air Line Pilots Assn.

The union said it represents 1,541 pilots who work for American Airlines but about 10 on the company's roster.

An ALPA spokesman said pilots will cease work at 11:59 p.m. in each time zone, but planes in operation will continue to their destinations.

One of the loans, for $8,100, was made to Stompanato by Mrs. Doris Cornell, who said Stompanato never paid it back. She denied any romantic interest in the former bodyguard to ex-gambler Mickey Cohen.

Mrs. Cornell, who works in a pet store, said she loaned Stompanato the money so he could buy a gift shop.

"I was almost a sister to him," Mrs. Cornell told reporters. "He was nothing but a gentleman."

Stompanato's death was ruled justifiable homicide by a coroner's jury. Miss Turner's daughter, who said she stabbed Stompanato when he threatened to disgrace her mother, is awaiting a hearing April 24 in Juvenile Court. In the meantime, she is being held by juvenile authorities.

Tax Cutting View Brings Press Query

Cautions Against Rushing Into Big Public Works Plan

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today that whenever he is convinced a tax cut would benefit the country, the administration will consider it.

But, at a news conference, Eisenhower gave no indication of any change in his thinking that no tax reduction is necessary at this time.

Eisenhower was reminded by a reporter that former President Truman advocates a five-billion-dollar tax cut for low and middle income groups.

Doesn't Mention Name
A newsman asked then for Eisenhower's views regarding taxes—and what form any reduction should take.

Without mentioning Truman by name, Eisenhower said he would have no comment on the views of any one else.

But he went on to say that when he is convinced a tax cut would benefit the United States, then it will be taken up.

Eisenhower cautioned against rushing into any huge public works program in an effort to combat the recession. Truman advocates a big increase in spending for such projects.

Saying we must be very, very careful about getting into such programs, Eisenhower added we should try to be reasonable and not get what he called a Sputnik attitude about everything.

The President offered a rebuttal too to Truman's call for reducing costs of carrying the public debt.

Eisenhower said that in order to lower interest costs on the public debt it might be necessary to flood the country with money to sustain a lower interest rate. That in turn, he added, would mean higher prices.

And that is the sort of program he for one never will go for, Eisenhower said.

Today's conference marked the first time in a year Eisenhower has met four weeks in a row with newsmen.

Criticism Unjustified
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today anti-American accusations in the French Parliament were unjustified and a political gimmick.

Eisenhower spoke at his news conference one day after bitter debate in France's Parliament led to the downfall of Premier Felix Gaillard's government.

The anti-American critics accused the United States of trying, through its good offices mission in the French-Tunisian crisis, to foster actions hostile to French interests in North Africa.

One charge was that the United States wanted U.S. firms to take over French oil interests in the area.

Eisenhower told his news conference U.S. policy was crystal clear. He said he was sure in his own mind, on the basis of talks he'd had with Gaillard, that the deposed premier understood this.

He said the United States sought to preserve France's historic economic-cultural ties with North Africa because these ties could serve as the basis of great economic and political relations between the two areas.

British Buying Spree Starts As Prices Reduced

LONDON (AP) — The big price markdown got under way on British household goods today, touching off a happy buying spree and a rise in the stock market.

Tax cuts on household appliances, announced yesterday in the new government budget, were supposed to affect only new stock delivered to dealers today.

But to meet competition, most dealers cut prices on everything in stock and absorbed the tax difference themselves.

As a result of the cut in the purchase taxes, refrigerators were marked down from $163 to $156, and vacuum cleaners were about $16.80 cheaper.

Oscar Awards Program Better Than Emmy Show

By JAMES RACON
HOLLYWOOD—Father Knows Best, Dinah Shore and Jack Benny, honored at last, were the stars last night in television's annual Emmy Awards.
The show, telecast over NBC-TV, proved one thing—that the movie industry puts on a better TV show than TV itself.
Entertainmentwise, the Emmy show looked like a junior class play compared with the movies' recent Oscar telecast.

Milton Berle, a TV pioneer who hasn't worked in the medium for three years, gave the Emmy show its only lift with fast quips.
Miss Shore won Emmys for the best musical show and for the best continuing performance by a female.
Benny won the Emmy for the best continuing male performance only seconds after he was voted a special Academy trustees' award. As one member of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences explained, "We've been very embarrassed that such a great comedian as Jack Benny has never won an Emmy before. So we decided to make sure he got at least one tonight."

Father Knows Best, a situation family comedy almost dropped two years ago, won an Emmy for Robert Young as the best actor in a series and for Jane Wyatt as the best actress in the same category.
"The Comedian," a Playhouse 99 production, was named the best single program of the year. Rod Serling, its author, won the best writing Emmy. Mickey Rooney, whose performance in the title role was judged an all-time TV classic by many critics, didn't get a nod as best actor.

That award was won by Britisher Peter Ustinov for his portrayal of Dr. Samuel Johnson on Omnibus show. That series also won an Emmy as the best public service program.
Seven Lively Arts, a show already off the air, was named the best new program of the year.
Polly Bergen won the Emmy for best actress in the Playhouse 99 production of "The Helen Morgan Story."

The Phil Silvers Show won as the best comedy series—and its many writers, almost outnumbering Sgt. Bilko's platoon, won for best comedy writing.
The adult Westerns, most popular rated shows on TV, made only one breakthrough, in Gunsmoke. That show, TV's No. 1 rated series won as the best continuing dramatic series.

In other awards, Carl Reiner of the Sid Caesar Show won the best supporting actor Emmy; Ann B. Davis, the man-crazy Schultzy of the Bob Cummings Show, won best supporting actress; Edward R. Murrow, best news commentator; composer Leonard Bernstein, best musical contribution; and Playhouse 90, best dramatic anthology.

Major Scolded, Fined In Korea

SEOUL, Korea—An American major who piloted a helicopter carrying a young Korean thief nailed in a box has been reprimanded and fined $200, half a month's pay.
Maj. Thomas G. James of Plymouth, Pa., got the maximum penalty under Article 15 of the Military Code which he chose to accept rather than risk trial by a general court-martial. If convicted by the court, he could have gotten up to three years and nine months in prison, loss of all pay and allowances while imprisoned and dismissal from the Army.

Democrats Seek To Override Veto

WASHINGTON—Congressional Democrats studied today their chances of mustering the votes they would need to override President Eisenhower's veto of the rivers and harbors bill.
Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas delayed a decision on a move to override until an informal canvass can determine the likelihood of obtaining the necessary two-thirds vote margin.
Eisenhower has vetoed 103 bills and has never been overridden.

Old Painting Lost In Fire

NEW YORK—A shimmering 18-foot painting of water lilies by Claude Monet, valued at $10,000, was destroyed yesterday by a fire at the Museum of Modern Art.
Of the 11,000 art objects in the museum, only five other paintings were found damaged in first checks.
Two multimillion-dollar special exhibits escaped harm.

Six Men Start 'Trip To Moon' In Test By Navy

PHILADELPHIA—Six Navy men on a simulated trip to the moon worked, slept and bumped each other's elbows in their crowded "spaceship" today at the Philadelphia naval base.
The six began the make-believe trip yesterday in a test of man's reaction to the cramped quarters which would be encountered on an actual flight to the first target in outer space.
They will live on precooked rations, breathe oxygen concentrates and undergo simulated altitude conditions for six days more.

Tax Cutting

which a storm has blown up at the Capitol—was put off for a year.
Eisenhower said in a message to Congress that it will be dealt with in the Defense Department budget for the year starting July 1, 1959.

Dispatch of the message came on the heels of a news conference in which Eisenhower denied he had ever approved the idea of having Congress appropriate a lump sum of money for the secretary of defense to finance the nation's military establishment.
That had been the crux of congressional criticism of the White House plan on the basis of interpretations put on the first announcement early this month.

In the news conference Eisenhower did say that in some phases of the military operation he favors providing money for categories of tasks and letting the jobs be put where they can be best handled.

Four Teenage Gangsters Guilty In Boy's Slaying

NEW YORK—Four members of a youth gang were convicted last night in the slaying of Michael Farmer, 15-year-old polio-crippled son of a city fireman.
All escaped the electric chair. The three other defendants were all acquitted.
An all-male jury returned its verdict 24 hours after receiving the case.

Charles "Big Man" Horton, an 18-year-old Negro, and Louis Alvarez, 17-year-old Puerto Rican, were convicted of murder in the second degree. They face a mandatory term of 20 years to life in prison when they come up for sentencing May 21.
They were the only defendants subject to judgment for first-degree murder, for which the death sentence is mandatory.
Alvarez's father Louis fainted in court when he heard the verdict.

Found guilty of second-degree manslaughter, punishable by up to 15 years in prison, were Leroy the ground as the shells began (Magician) Birch, a Negro who fatally was the oldest defendant at 19, and Leoncio "Jello" de Leon, 17, a native of the Dominican Republic.
Whitfield pulled the children to the ground as the shells began (Magician) Birch, a Negro who fatally was the oldest defendant at 19, and Leoncio "Jello" de Leon, 17, a native of the Dominican Republic.

Acquitted were the three remaining members of the Egyptian Dragons on trial: John McCarthy, an epileptic and the "baby" of the group at 15; Richard Hills, 17, who had claimed he was drafted into the gang; and George Melendez, 16-year-old native of Puerto Rico. Hills and McCarthy are white.

Man Shoots Down Wife On City Street

Hagerstown Mother Was On Way To See Son In Concert

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — A mother on her way to watch her son perform in a concert was shot down on the street by her estranged husband last night, police said. The husband, 34-year-old Paul Young, then killed himself with a .22 caliber gun.

Police Sgt. Edward Kuhlman said the mother, Mrs. Nellie I. Young, about 50, left her apartment house on her way to the concert where her son, Joseph, 16, was performing.

Witnesses told Kuhlman the husband, waiting in a car across the street, walked over to his wife and took her a short way down the block before shooting her in the head.

Young was a taxicab driver and his wife worked at a local dress factory. Police said they had been separated for some time.

Congress To Refund 14 Cents To Worker

By JACK VINCENT

WASHINGTON (INS) — It's taking an act of Congress, but George Schultheis, of Rochester, N. Y., may get back 14 cents owed him by the U. S. Government for a decade.

A bill to give Schultheis and a group of other workers there a total of $432 refunds of employment tax erroneously withheld from their wages has cleared the House and is now before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

A companion measure to give the State of New York an equal sum is on the House consent calendar, and its passage is expected shortly. Both bills were introduced by Rep. Kenneth Keating (R) N. Y.

What is unique about the first measure is the smallness of some of the sums to be refunded. It points up to the steadfastness of the law which says the government cannot spend money — even 14 cents — without a specific act of Congress.

Besides Schultheis, Elmer Hancock has a claim for 42 cents, Frank T. Johnson the sum of 32 cents, Robert E. Perry 99 cents, and Herbert Hausknecht 18 cents. All are from Rochester.

Other claimants will receive around from $2 to $20 once the measure passes the Senate, and is signed by President Eisenhower.

The snafu in erroneously withholding too much employment tax occurred between Sept. 30, 1946 and Sept. 30, 1947. Refunds could not be made by the Treasury because the claimants had allowed the period for filing claims to expire.

Now 11 years later, their claims finally may be recognized.

A spokesman for the House Judiciary Committee which approved the measure said it was doubtful if the claims would have been considered at all if each claim had been made the subject of a separate bill.

The lowest individual claim bill that ever was approved by the Congress was for $34.50.

Ike And Monarch Seen Meeting At Seaway Opening

MONTREAL (AP) — Canadians are talking about the possibility that President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth II will meet at the St. Lawrence Seaway when it opens next April.

The Queen already has promised to come to the opening, and it is believed that the President also will be on hand.

A likely meeting place is Cornwall Island, in the river's International Rapids section. The four-mile island lies in Canadian waters but a new high-level bridge is to link it with the United States just 1,200 feet away.

Test Gas Station, Restaurant Sought

BALTIMORE (AP) — The State Roads Commission plans to build a test service station and restaurant area between the dual lanes of the Baltimore-Washington Expressway near Dorsey Road.

Roads Chairman Robert O. Bonnell said yesterday the northbound lanes will be swung outward on a gentle curve to make room for the facilities.

The buildings and parking area will be constructed on a 20-acre site by private contractors in accordance with State specifications. Bonnell said the services should be in operation by late summer. He said the facilities will be leased through competitive bidding.

The project was designed to provide data on a test basis for similar projects on other eligible highways. Bonnell said part of the land needed to relocate the northbound lanes has been acquired.

SHOES STRETCHED BY NEW LIQUID — $1.

Suffer no more the pinch of tight shoes. A new liquid stretch is aimed to relieve foot woes. The liquid formula was discovered quite accidentally by Frederick Schoeffler, a Los Angeles inventor.

What the liquid does is to increase the size of leather by as much as eight percent . . . and permanently. Foot there's no shrinkage at a later time, as usually comes with ordinary shoe-stretching, because this chemical solution works on the cells of leather to make them larger, softer and more pliable.

The colorless liquid comes in a small bottle and takes no effort to apply. Just pour it on a cloth and rub on the tight area of the shoe. There is no harm to the skin, stockings or shoes, and it is effective on suede, alligator and all shoe leather. Recommended for relief from corns and bunions. And children will get another six weeks wear from outgrown shoes. You'll find it at Rosenbaum's Hosiery Department, Street Floor, 1.00.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Primaries Ahead

THE 1958 political primary season is upon us, which means that from now on into summer the American voters will be determining the lineups for the key House, Senate and governorship races next fall. Unfortunately, the record shows that people in this country have a habit of paying very little attention to this important selective process and then complaining about the quality of the candidates they have to choose from in November. From the men picked in these primaries will come the fall winners. And among the winners will be men who from vantage points in Congress or certain strategic Statehouses will exert power and influence in the 1960 presidential election.

OF THE MOST populous states, New York, California, Pennsylvania and Ohio all have both Senate and governorship contests. Illinois has neither. New York nominates in a state convention rather than a primary. Probably the most interesting spring battle will be Pennsylvania's GOP governorship match between Harold Stassen, one-time governor of Minnesota, and a regular organization candidate named McGonigle. California offers a Senate nomination fight between present GOP Gov. Goodwin Knight and San Francisco's Mayor Christopher. As the roll of primaries begins to unfold, it is well to remember that they are not elections in which the two major parties confront each other. Some who view and appraise these preliminary events insist on trying to make them what they are not.

THE RELATIVE size of the two parties' vote may indicate the comparative basic strength of their organizations. It may also reflect the interest stirred by a many-sided or perhaps a bitter contest. Seldom if ever does it disclose the beginnings of a popular national uprising against an incumbent administration, or measure accurately a president's popularity. Presidential preference primaries are of course something else, but even they do not really pit men of opposite parties against each other at that stage. Too many complex intra-party factors are involved in primary decisions for them to have great meaning beyond party bounds. The big inter-party test is had in November. To try to anticipate the result by reading extra meaning into the primaries would be like counting Grapefruit League spring training ball games toward the big pennant.

The Greater Danger

WHILE THE recession is the immediately serious problem facing this country, the more dangerous problem is that of security, and the Russian threat. In words, this much is granted. Day after day, leaders have warned of the Russian Communist threat. However, the delay in taking action to shorten the recession is not at all consistent with an awareness of the continuing threat and danger which Russian Communism constitutes. For if the nature of this danger were felt deeply and fully, how could there be any delay in taking action to shorten the recession? How could there be calm predictions about an upturn in the second quarter, the third quarter, the fourth quarter of the year, and a willingness to wait patiently for this upturn? Every day of recession means that so much production is forever lost. Every day of recession means that so much needed wealth can never be created. And every day of recession exposes some millions of Americans anew to the demoralization, the fear, the anxiety and the suffering of unemployment. We see human and natural resources unused when they are needed day in and day out. The conclusion is inescapable. The threat of Communism is not felt and understood as it must be if we are to survive. For if it were, the risks and losses of a dragging recession would not be taken as lightly as they are at the present time and as they have been during these recent months.

CHAIRMAN McClellan of the Senate Rackets Committee predicted that remedial laws would result from investigation of the long Kohler strike. Better still, it should help to convince both labor and management that nobody gains from permitting disagreements to wind up in economic warfare.

Poor Guy!

Nixon Tries To Make Up For Bad Campaign

WASHINGTON — Two articles of faith among supporters of Vice President Nixon's claims to the Presidency are that:

Having now "matured," he earnestly repents and is heartily sorry for the kind of campaigns he waged for the House and Senate against the then Reps. Jerry Voorhis and Helen Gahagan Douglas respectively.

He has had incomparably the best training any Vice President ever had for the Presidency.

IT IS NEVER admitted by Nixon admirers that the very deft but low-down campaigns which launched the Vice President on the national scene were anything but possibly rather unimpressive. It is, however, agreed that he was injured by them among independents and Democrats, some of whom must be won over by 1960 since Republicans are the minority party.

Hence Operation Maturity, which falls generally into two parts. One calls attention to the Vice President's present discretion and especially his successful journeys representing this country, another of which—in South America—is about to begin.

THERE IS NO dissent from the view that Nixon has performed well on his travels. They are extremely important to him both because of powerful political minorities at home and because they help to fill in the great foreign affairs void in his career. The Vice President has organized each one with his customary shrewdness and attention to detail. Correspondents who wish to accompany him to South America are already in possession of a clear and detailed memorandum for the trip, which starts April 27.

About 35 have signed up, in part a reflection of the consistent attention paid to the question of President Eisenhower's health.

Info Agency State Department Arm

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—In another complete reversal of what was going on here a year ago, U.S. Information Agency is now being criticized for not doing enough.

Principal complaint is that USA is not waging psychological warfare as aggressively as it should, to beat Russian propaganda on Sputniks and atom bomb test ban offers.

Arthur Larson, since elevated to the White House staff, was head of USA last year.

Because of a couple of inept political speeches he made in 1956, Congress took out after him budget in 1957. It was cut from 144 to 95 million. This was part of the economy drive, now another dead letter.

Since January, there has been a new man in charge at USA. He is George V. Allen, a professional diplomat for 28 years.

He has served as ambassador to India, Greece and Yugoslavia. He has done two hitchhikes as an assistant secretary of state.

Also, he comes from North Carolina, which helps a lot in sweet-talking to southern congressmen.

THE ODDS are that Allen will get practically all of the 165 million dollars USA has asked for next year.

But when self-appointed experts come up with new ideas on how the U.S. Information or Voice of America programs ought to be run in some area, "Pro" Allen can ask the free adviser if he has ever lived there and knows what he is talking about.

Allen has lived all over the world and he knows sense from nonsense.

Allen now sits with National Security Council and he can suggest items for its agenda. He has a man on the NSC planning board. He attends Secretary of State's staff conferences several times a week.

So he is in on the administration's foreign policy planning.

HE HAS, however, some very definite ideas on what psychological warfare can and can't do.

He still believes in conventional diplomacy as the proper channel for negotiations between nations. He doesn't think government propaganda can take its place.

He recognizes, however, that something new has been added in the government information programs. They go over the heads of the diplomats. They speak directly to the people, press, radio, films and intellectual of other countries.

Allen takes a dim view of this direct approach being run by a Madison Avenue type of salesman. He thinks the job must be run by experienced foreign service officers.

Granting all these basic principles on how psychological warfare should be run, a number of errors can be chalked up against the way it has been run.

The old Psychological Warfare Board set up in the White House by C. D. Jackson has been replaced by the Operations Control Board—OCB. Its principal function is to see that NSC decisions are carried out. But as a committee operation, its psychological warfare moves haven't been completely effective.

THE MARSHALL plan the will receive there will be both more exhaustive by far and more critical than elsewhere in his travels.

ALSO OFFERED in affirmation of the new Nixon are stories that he has told critics of his Voorhis-Douglas campaigns that "I was young then, I'm sorry." It has been fully established that he made some such statement to David Astor of the London Times, who was reportedly much impressed by Nixon's "sincerity."

California reporters say that the Vice President was asked while home recently about published stories of the Astor incident and that he replied they were "exaggerated."

News media were billed by MATS only $1,000 for their representatives on that far-flung trip to the Dark Continent.

THE BIG TEST of Nixon as a government spokesman abroad is still to come. It is his European journey, which was planned for last fall but cancelled on the ostensible grounds that time was lacking to make arrangements for stops Nixon wanted to include.

Yugoslavia and other Iron Curtain countries linked to important voting minorities in some big states.

Nixon is still eager to invade Europe. The press attention he

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — There was a time when comedians came from the motley ranks of vaudeville or the raffish alleys of burlesque, and these were fine training schools for the most exacting and demanding of the performing arts.

To learn to be funny for pay in public, ready for any emergency, fit to cozen and warm a hostile audience, learning how to time a joke so that it has whip and sting instead of resembling a poached egg that slid off the toast onto the floor, all of these are horrifying tasks. They do not come easily. Ask any comic. They are the most haunted of men.

THE DEATH of the two major training schools has created a new kind of comedian — a slim, cerebral, nervous, highly intelligent young man with a barb for every niche of life, and usually they speak in ellipses. You have to pay the closest attention to savor their wit. You can't relax and give out with an occasional bellow of laughter. You have to listen and the clown has to communicate. It is high cortex comedy.

Such a young man, from California originally, crossed my New York path the other night and when he learns a few more things he will be a better political jester than Will Rogers, a sharper spearman than Bob Hope, a more elfin satirizer than Jackie Gleason. He will never have the thump of J. Durante, because that is not Mort Sahl's technique. But he will be a terrific and sometimes terrifying clown.

MR. SAHL's little sharp edges show up suddenly, as in discussing the last NATO meeting in Paris which Mr. Eisenhower attended: "You remember that NATO meeting when the President wrote that charming note to a falling French government. I understand the text was partially written by Adlai Stevenson during his one day in government."

That has nice, thin edges, cutting both ways.

Or, again on Stevenson: "He made a world tour, you know. He even went to countries that aren't on any maps. He'd get there and the people would come down out of the trees, lay their blowguns on the ground and listen to him. When he left, they'd discuss him and there was always one who would say: 'I don't know. For me, there seems to be a lack of warmth, he just doesn't communicate.'"

THERE is a store for men in New York specializing in one simple cut of suits. It is called

Bumpers Without Bumps

WASHINGTON — In Detroit the motor moguls currently are exhibiting their ideas designed to make sedans safer to ride in. Sound like good ideas, too.

Ford, who pioneered in the safety campaign three years ago with its deep-dish steering wheel and its padded dashboard, has come up now with the shock-absorber bumper. This is a chrome-plated dingbat much like those now in use, except that it is filled with shock-absorbent material.

ALL I KNOW is that in 1930 I proudly plunked down $900 for a Model A Ford coupe, painted blue (with red wire wheels) and equipped front and rear with bumpers made of spring steel. When I bumped into anything with this, I bounced. I drove that little beast for three years and bumped and got bumped, but thanks to those springy bumpers, never even scratched a fender.

This bumper business I have taken up with an engineer, who says I don't know my bumpers. He claims spring-steel bumpers are dangerous, that modern bumpers which crumple when hit absorb much of the wallop as they disintegrate. If this is true, the new Ford bumper is better still.

GENERAL Motors has done Truman Doctrine and the North Atlantic Treaty were good psychological warfare moves. Baghdad Pact, Southeast Asia Treaty and Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East haven't been quite as successful.

President Eisenhower's Atoms for Peace Plan and his open skies inspection offer were good psychological warfare moves. But they have had no follow-up in three years.

THESE fenders stuck out past the body, you may remember, and they were connected front to rear by corrugated-steel safety devices known as running boards.

A sideswipe sometimes dented a running board, but it seldom even got close to the body. I bought a number of running boards in my day; I seem to remember they cost $6 each, installed.

THESE running boards made the body a little narrower, but so what? The front seat handled three customers with a little squeezing; today few car seats can do that.

THEY'RE WIDE enough to carry four men, a boy and two pups seated abreast, but let us pity the poor devils in the middle, hitting bottom at every bump because of the hump leading to the rear axle.

The Model A had no hump because it sat up high enough so that the machinery beneath didn't interfere with the passengers.

I'm glad, in any event, the Governors are beginning to think along my line.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK—For the first time in the postwar world, Joe College may not find people standing in line to offer him jobs when he says farewell to the campus this June.

What does a young graduate need to get ahead in a business recession?

"First of all, he needs to find himself," said Arthur Rubloff of Chicago, board chairman of one of the nation's largest real estate development firms.

"Failure to find themselves is what defeats most young men. You have to go out and find yourself. Nobody will find you for you."

RUBLOFF AT 55 has supervised building projects totaling more than half a billion dollars. He went to work in a laundry at the age of nine, quit school at twelve.

Unlike many self-made men, however, Rubloff is a firm advocate of education.

"It has never been more fundamental to business, or more important to success," he says, "because the world is becoming more specialized."

He also believes college graduates are wrong to feel that the present recession is any great or permanent barrier to advancement.

"Some young people seem to feel that the days of great opportunities are past," he said. "Nothing could be farther from the truth. The opportunities today are greater than they ever have been in the history of mankind."

"I think a young man does need 90 per cent energy to go with the 10 per cent judgment he has now. And I feel that if he uses his energy sensibly, it will help him mature in judgment."

"But just working hard isn't the main thing. The basic things are to have a real desire to succeed, a pride in accomplishment, and to think in terms of how you can help the other fellow."

"But there is a hell of a lot more to success than working hard. Laborers work hard."

"My guess is that only one out of 100 people really wants to achieve. The rest just seem lost. They wait for something to happen to them. But nothing is going to happen to them."

HERE ARE RUBLOFF'S other practical tips:

"Organize yourself."

"Be well-liked. You do this by being fair."

"Take an active part in community programs. This will give you a rounded conception of human relations you can get in no other way. And understanding human relations is vital today. The well-liked man, who understands people, gets along better than the smarter man who isn't liked."

"If you have persistence and like people, don't worry at your lack of genius. If every one of the 63 million workers in America was a genius, this country would be in a hell of a mess."

"Finally, always give as much or more than you get, and never lose faith in human nature. Because one man has done you wrong, don't turn your ear from the next fellow."

George Dixon

Washington Scene

WASHINGTON — Each time a White House news conference breaks up, and we surge out of earshot of President Eisenhower, I am struck by a recurring phenomenon. Instead of comparing notes on what the man said—or meant—a surprising number of my colleagues mill about, asking each other, "How do you think he looked?"

The How Did He Lookers have a community of interest, but far less unanimity of opinion. The eyes of the beholders are not standardized. Two correspondents can be seated side by side, within five feet of the President—who is etched in sharp television lights—and when they exchange impressions a few minutes later you'd think they'd been looking at two different Ikes.

One will insist Mr. Eisenhower was "fiery"; the other "listless." In one day I have heard the object of their scrutiny described as "in high good humor," "out of sorts," "contained," "explosive," "forthright," "hesitant," "tired" and "animated."

MARCHING AWAY from the latest news conference I was assured by the How Did He Looker on my right that the President had "flushed with anger," and by the "Washington observer" on my left that "he didn't turn a hair."

This is no analogy, of course, but the divergence of viewpoint sometimes reminds me of the old days when I used to cover murder trials, and a feature writer would describe the defendant as "ashen," and "shaking like an aspen leaf"—although this reportorial apartment-dweller hadn't seen ashes in twenty years and, even if his Boy Scout badge for woodcraft was at stake, couldn't tell an aspen from an aspen.

In Washington, a great many of us take pride in practicing what we are pleased to call "interpretive writing." Interpretive writing can be distinguished from interpretive dancing in that you can practice it sitting down. I sometimes feel we do too much of the latter.

This obsession with the appearance of the President might not be too bad if it didn't distract so much from his utterances. An H.D.Y.T.H.L. squadman is apt to become so rapt in studying the President's appearance that he misses a lot of what he says. In our esthetic set, we have an expression for this which I think you will find self-explanatory, if you study it long enough. We call it:

"Keeping an eye on the pulse of the nation."

THE OBSESSION, moreover, is often inclined to hemuse a practitioner as to the relative importance of a Presidential pronouncement. If he thinks Ike "exploded angrily" at a question he is likely to assess the answer as being more newsworthy than one he saw delivered in a "quietly contained manner."

There was a glaring manifestation of this the other day. Ike defended his military reorganization plan "fiercely," but announced he saw no immediate need for a tax cut "with equanimity." Overheated by the fire, a lot of the H.D.Y.T.H.L.-ers decided to give the Pentagon rumpus top priority. Their news editors, at desks far insulated from the fire, decided the readers were more concerned with brass tacks than brass hats.

Possibly we should temper the beauty contest approach, and try to bear in mind that we are covering a Presidential news conference, not the Cherry Blossom Festival.

Carpets Keep New Look

With proper care wall to wall carpeting will retain the new look.

Correct cleaning methods have seemingly been a mystery and controversial even to carpet manufacturers. After much research a product is on the market that cleans and fluffs up beat down carpet paths plus removal of spots thereby maintaining the new look. The textile engineer of a large carpet mill says — "It's the best we've found."

The product is Blue Lustre. It is easily applied with a long handle brush. One half gallon of Blue Lustre concentrate cleans three 9 x 12 rugs.

Freedom Of Information Bill Expected To Pass

WASHINGTON—(INS)—A bill designed to do away with one obstacle to freedom of information was expected to pass the House today with little opposition. The measure proposed by the Government Information Subcommittee headed by Rep. John D. Moss (D) Calif., would amend the so-called "housekeeping" statute to specify that it may not be used to withhold information from the public. Moss said the statute, originally designed in 1789 to give federal officials the right to keep files, has been "twisted" to suppress information of a non-security nature. He said it is frequently cited by agency officials as the basis for refusing information. Moss, in remarks prepared for the House, said the bill will not require publication of legitimate confidential or security matters which are protected by other laws. Moss said the bill was "merely a first step in combating unnecessary executive secrecy." It is the first measure proposed by the committee since it was established two years ago to study the secrecy problem.

Owners Fail To List Tax Receipts On Autos

CHARLESTON (AP)—The Department of Motor Vehicles has sounded another sour note about the failure of owners to simply furnish a receipt showing they paid personal property tax on their automobiles.

Deputy Commissioner John H. Goad said yesterday that the agency has had to return a number of license plate applications because they were not accompanied by any type of tax receipt. The 1957 Legislature enacted a statute requiring proof of payment of personal property tax on automobiles to tighten up the law. The requirement is in effect for the first time for the license year beginning next July 1. Applicants must show they have paid the tax on vehicles registered in their names as of Jan. 1, 1957.

A license applicant who did not own a vehicle registered in West Virginia as of Jan. 1, 1957 must submit with his application an affidavit to that effect. The affidavit forms are available in the offices of county sheriffs, or at the motor vehicles department here.

The agency estimated yesterday that it has sent back at least 10 per cent of the license applications received so far. The wrong document to show payment of the property tax on vehicles has caused the most frequent send-backs.

The department reiterated that the 5 by 8 size "tax ticket" received from the sheriff's office upon payment of real and personal property taxes should not be sent in with license applications.

A smaller tax receipt adopted by counties to facilitate carrying out the 1957 legislation should be provided, the department stressed. That receipt is a card and the size most commonly used by the counties, if not by all 55 counties, is 2 1/2 by 3 1/2 inches.

The card lists the automobile by make and model and has a space where the owner is to fill in the serial number.

The department does not expect to finish sending out license application forms until the end of this month. New plates must be on vehicles by July 1, but may be used June 1.

The state agency will open over-the-counter sales of new license plates here May 1.

Club To Mark Observance

Plans for the local observance of National Coin Week, April 21-27, will be made at a meeting of the Western Maryland Coin Club at 7:30 p. m. today in City Hall.

A number of coin displays will be prepared for the observance. The club, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, has 29 adult and 20 junior members.

Officials pointed out that 40 new members were secured during last year's Coin Week celebration, and efforts will be made to gain at least as many members this year.

Junior members have been asked to bring lists of coins they need, so adult members may help them complete their collections.

Adult members have been asked to prepare a similar list of coins they will sell or exchange.

A coin auction will be conducted after the business session by John Dorn, program director.

Circuit Court Judges Get Report Card On Dockets

BALTIMORE (AP)—Judges have gotten a report card on cleaning up their dockets.

It shows only the Third Circuit (Baltimore and Harford counties) and the First Circuit (five counties on lower Eastern Shore) have cut the amount of pending litigation and the docket backlog. Eight other circuits had heavier dockets.

This was part of a report released yesterday by the Administrative Office of Maryland Courts. It covered the period Sept. 1 to March 1.

Here are some other findings: Only about four per cent of the criminal cases in Maryland are heard by juries. Forty-two per cent of civil cases go before a jury.

About 90 per cent of all cases tried in the state are heard within two years of filing. In criminal courts, 90 per cent of all trials are heard within three months of indictment.

About one-fourth of civil litigation involved auto accident cases.

And most Marylanders believe they can get a better break from a judge than a jury. When given a choice, most prefer to be tried before the man in the robes.

Wall Street Hears...

NEW YORK — (INS) — Wall Street Hears:

What is holding the market up? Probably anticipation, says Joseph E. Granville of E. F. Hutton & Company. He goes on: "Enough people expect that perhaps something dynamic will come out of Washington over the next few weeks."

Minneapolis-Honeywell's regular $1.50 rate may again be supplemented by a year-end extra of 15 cents.

There will be some whopping pieces of financing late this month and early in May: $30 million Puget Sound Power & Light, $40 million Philadelphia Electric, $150 million Texas Company debentures, $35 million City of Montreal debentures.

Toledo Edison Company earnings in first quarter close to year ago 30 cents per share.

Tonnage sales by Texas Gulf Sulphur turned higher in March and second quarter results likely to improve over first three months.

Some dissatisfaction with exchange offered Mission development shareholders by Getty Oil. Market comment—Arthur W. Bullock of Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis:

"At current levels the market is not cheaply priced on earnings. Rather, it is selling at a somewhat liberal price-earnings ratio."

Business Briefs

NEW YORK — (INS) — General Electric reported today first quarter sales totaled $964,996,000, an eight per cent drop from the corresponding period of 1957. Earnings dropped 23 per cent from the record $64,006,000 a year earlier. Profits amounted to 56 cents per share common stock against 73 cents in the first quarter of 1957.

NEW YORK — (INS) — The National Office Machine Dealers Association said today gross receipts of its dealers rose five per cent in the first quarter of this year above those in the same period last year. A survey of NOMDA members showed the independent dealers viewed the remainder of 1958 with confidence, with about half planning to extend their operations despite the recession.

President Harold Steinko of Philadelphia said about 70 per cent of the dealers had higher first quarter sales and more than a third reported record volume of business.

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — Gulf Oil Co. released today a study showing about 190 American oil companies are active in oil exploration and production in 91 foreign countries. The report by Leonard M. Fanning notes the surge of overseas activity by U.S. firms has been accelerated in recent years with 110 companies entering the area between 1951 and February of this year. Sixty-eight of the 190 companies conducted no activities in the U.S. itself.

Moose Plan Dinner, Dance

Cumberland Lodge 271, 1.00 Moose, will open its golden anniversary membership drive with a dinner and dance today at the lodge home.

The dinner will begin at 6:30 p.m., according to Frank J. Davis, deputy supreme governor of Maryland, who is chairman of the membership drive. The dinner, he added, will honor all past governors of the local lodge.

The dance will be a semi-formal affair and will be held on the third floor of the lodge home, beginning at 9 p.m. Russell L. Minnick is chairman of arrangements for the dinner and dance.

The dinner will be open to members and their wives or girl friends, while the dance will be open to the public, Minnick said.

Animals Benefit

NORFOLK, Va. — Miss Sallie Louise Beaman's will left four acres of land to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, with a few restrictions. It must look after a pet cemetery on the property, take care of her dogs and use the property as a shelter for animals. And $5,400 was left to care for her dogs.

Gas Rate Case Postponed

CHARLESTON — A hearing by the Public Service Commission of a request for higher rates by the Cumberland & Allegheny Gas Co. has been postponed from today to May 22.

The rates would yield an estimated $665,000 more a year from its 16,500 West Virginia customers. The company told the commission it lost $69,000 on its operation in the state during the 12-month period ended last July 31. Its proposed new rates allegedly would provide a rate of return on the C&A investment of slightly more than 6.75 per cent.

The company serves such communities as Elkins, Philippi, Kingwood, Piedmont, Terra Alta and Keyser. The Terra Alta property was not included in company's calculations for the new rates.

Job Openings Reported Up

BALTIMORE — Despite increases in the number of Maryland unemployed, State figures show that the number of job openings are increasing.

The Department of Employment Security also reported yesterday jobs were found for 3,701 persons in March, or 763 more than for the previous month.

Employers reported during March they had 4,645 job openings compared with 3,818 in February. The department referred 7,042 workers for these jobs in March, compared with 6,241 in February.

The rise in job openings was attributed to an increase in requests for skilled workers.

Total unemployment in Maryland at mid-February was 82,000.

Legislative Lobby Fees Reported For Maryland

ANNAPOLIS (U) — Two former judges, William C. Walsh of Cumberland and Joseph Sherbow of Baltimore, received lobbying fees totalling $15,000 each for the 1958 session of the General Assembly, according to reports filed with the secretary of state.

Bowie Race Course reported that it paid Walsh a fee of $15,000 and expenses totalling $523.88 for leading its fight to block a proposed shift of Pimlico racing dates to Laurel.

Sherbow was listed for a $10,000 fee from the Maryland Advertising Council for legislation to exempt advertising from special taxation and a $5,000 fee from the National Association of Independent Insurers in Chicago for work on insurance legislation.

The advertising council reported it had paid Sherbow $3,500 of his fee on advertising legislation and that $6,500 was still due him.

The fees were listed in reports, firms and organizations are required to file on their lobbyists within 30 days after a General Assembly session. Of the 80 lobbyists registered, 48 had been reported on by yesterday's deadline. Most of the others were granted extensions until next Monday, the secretary's office said.

In addition to the $15,000 fee paid Walsh, Bowie submitted a report of $7,500 in fees and expenses of $316.42 for Ralph W. Powers of Hyattsville who also lobbied against the Pimlico-Laurel merger. This brought Bowie's reported outlay against the proposal to $23,340.31.

The Maryland Jockey Club, which operates Pimlico and sought passage of the legislation, reported a fee of $1,500 and $262.33 in expenses for its registered lobbyist, former State Sen. Paul J. Bailey of St. Mary's County.

Walsh is a former judge of Circuit Court and of the Maryland Court of Appeals, as well as a one-time Attorney General. Sherbow served on the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City and was a Criminal Court judge.

Rivaling the Pimlico-Laurel bill for attention at the 1958 session was a measure to prevent parliament betting on jai alai in the state. No expenses were reported for this bill, opposed by interests who had obtained a license to operate a jai alai front in Anne Arundel County.

Joseph F. Donohue of Washington, president of Auditoriums Inc., said Annapolis attorney Wilbur R. Dulin, resident agent and lobbyist, incurred no expenses on behalf of the firm.

The Rev. Charles F. Kirkley, Annapolis minister lobbying for the bill, reported there were no expenses for the Anne Arundel County ministerium which he represented as its president.

Other major lobbying fees reported include:

The firm of Bartlett, Poe and Claggett, Baltimore, $4,250 in fees and $185.95 in expenses from casualty and surety companies and $820 from the National Board of Fire Underwriters for matters relating to insurance legislation.

Alexander Harvey II, Baltimore, representing the Baltimore Assn. of Commerce on legislation concerning taxation of commercial and manufacturing inventories, $2,000 fee and $81.12 expenses.

William S. Wilson Jr., Baltimore, representing Allied Motion Picture Owners of Maryland,

$1,500 for his efforts against bills to ban children under 16 from certain movies. Morris Turk of Annapolis received $500 plus $268.77 in expenses from the Motion Picture Assn. of America for similar work.

R. Robert Linowes, Silver Spring, representing the Outdoor Advertising Assn. of America on anti-billboard legislation, $1,500 fee and $480.58 expenses.

William J. Culbertson, Baltimore, State representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, $1,351.70 of which $761.60 was listed as regular salary.

D. L. Adams, chairman of the State Legislative Board of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, $1,107.50 including regular salary of $612.

Leroy M. Griffin, Baltimore, representing Teamsters joint council No. 62, $1,108.98 in expenses.

W. F. Strong, president of the Maryland State and D. C. AFL-CIO, $694.78 including $511.56 in salary. The organization also reported $1,722.50 for a cocktail party for members of the General Assembly.

Value Of Death Penalty Debated

PITTSBURGH (U) — State Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride questions the value of the death penalty as a deterrent to crime.

"Regardless of one's views on the place of capital punishment in modern society—and I might add, parenthetically, that I know few persons in the legal or correctional fields who favor its retention—the Board of Pardons cannot sit as a super legislature and effect abolition on a case to case basis," he said in a speech last night. "If any guide can be established, it must be of tempering legal process and public resentment with undiluted mercy."

County Keeps Same Tax Rate For Fourth Year

The tax rate for the 1958-59 fiscal year for Allegany County has not been increased for four years—it remains at $2.05 per $100 of assessable property.

Many items in the budget were cut by the commissioners as they strove to keep the budget as low as possible.

The total budget for the 1958-59 fiscal year is $4,526,334.87, which is only $3,685.46 above the $1,322,649.41 for the current year.

At one time, when the county commissioners sat down March 25 to plan the budget, it appeared that a 17-cent increase in the tax rate would be necessary to satisfy all of the budget requests. Many of these departmental budgets were sliced by the elimination of items for capital improvements.

County Roads Supervisor J. Walker Chapman, for one, had asked for $479,384.20, but the budget adopted yesterday was $49,000 short of that total at $430,384.20. There also was a $25,000 cut in the school budget for next year.

Significant increases in budget items for 1958-59 include a $9,000 hike in the tax collectors' fund from $40,000 to $49,000. Mrs. Johanna N. Sills, the county auditor, explained that the added $9,000 is to cover the extra cost of a unified tax collector's office for the entire county, effective next April.

Despite the $49,000 slice out of the road department budget, the $430,384.20 budgeted for next year is $55,756.20 more than this year's $374,628. Costs resulting from the school construction loans of a few years ago are costing the county an increase of more than $81,000 for the next year. Retirement of the school construction loans will take any $271,383.38 in the new fiscal year, an increase of $68,357.39. Interest on school construction loans will take $82,336.39, an increase of $13,279.31 over this year.

Group insurance is budgeted for $35,000 in the coming fiscal year, twice the $17,500 for this year which did not prove adequate.

In last year's budget, a single $75,000 item was listed for increases in salary classifications to provide a general 10 per cent raise in pay in the 1957-58 fiscal year. This year, that $75,000 has been distributed to the various departments receiving the money.

A $61,061.98 item from last year's budget not included this year was for supplementary matching funds for the 1956 Mt. Savage School and 1957 Mexico Farms Road projects which have been paid for. There also was a $13,500 item last year for estimated interest of proposed school construction loan of 1957.

The contingency fund in next year's budget is sliced $68,312.63 from the present $121,035.26 to $52,722.63. The unexpended surplus, which generally provides a "cushion" for the new budget, is down some $169,019.03 from last year's $553,560.75. It still stands at $384,541.70.

Next year that surplus is expected to be much lower because the commissioners are levying upon the entire $158,000,000 of assessable property. Last year only $152,000,000 was figured in the levy.

The state tax rate also remains unchanged for next year at 14.25

Soggy Soil Again Holds Up Planting

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Soggy soil again delayed Maryland and Delaware farmers last week in their efforts to begin catching up with their plowing and seedbed preparations.

The farmers already are from three to four weeks late with their field work, the Agricultural Marketing Service reported today.

Pastures on the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland were showing considerable growth. Elsewhere they were turning green.

In both Maryland and Delaware, less than 10 per cent of the corn land had been plowed, compared with about 40 per cent for the same date last year.

Commercial potatoes in the Dover area were about two-thirds planted, compared with one-third of the anticipated crop in the ground on Maryland's lower shore. Some early apples in north central Maryland were expected to bloom this week. Full bloom on peaches is expected the last week of April in the commercial areas.

New Regulations On Wheat Listed

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Agriculture Department today officially spelled out new regulations aimed at farmers who built up bigger wheat acreage by overplanting their allotments.

The regulations stem from a new law passed last month. The law permits limited overplanting construction loans will take this year but penalizes any farmer who does it again in 1959. The lawmakers passed the measure to halt a widespread practice—many wheat farmers were consistently overplanting their allotments and claiming the excess acreage as part of their planting history. County agriculture boards were compelled to raise the allotment in a later year.

Normally, farmers who sell wheat raised outside allotment acres are fined. But the overplanters found a loophole—by not selling the wheat in the year it was raised, they could save it until a lean year when their yields were low. Then they could sell the wheat and pay no fine.

Modern recipes suggest beating sugar into egg whites rather than folding it in when making a meringue because the beating makes the meringue more stable than the folding method.

Four Special Taxing Area Levies Adopted

The supplemental levies of the four special taxing districts in Allegany County were approved yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

Each of the levies remained the same except that of the Potomac Park Addition which was cut from 10 cents to eight cents per $100 of assessable property.

The money raised, an estimated $625, is used for street lighting and fire protection.

Unchanged for the 1958-59 fiscal year as a result of yesterday's action by the county commissioners are LaVale Sanitary Commission, still 10 cents on each $100 of assessable property; Mt. Savage Special Taxing Area, still 15 cents on each $100 of assessable property; and the Crestwood Civic Improvement Association, still 45 cents on each $100 of assessable property.

In Cresaptown, the funds are needed for water maintenance in the area. Mt. Savage's special funds are for the payment of street lights. LaVale needs $7,000 by taxation for the payment of interest and principal on all serial bonds maturing in the coming year.

Jury Exonerates Driver In Fatality

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP)—George Holsinger, 23, of Altoona, was exonerated last night by a Cambria County coroner's jury in the traffic death of Carl Buzzella, 3, of Gallitzin. The child was killed near his home April 2 by a truck operated by Holsinger.

Local Commission Lists 20 New Board Members

The Allegany County Youth Commission last night appointed 20 members to a board of directors at a meeting in Central YMCA.

The board, which met after the general meeting to name five members to an executive committee, is composed of 14 adults and six younger members. They are George Kyle, Frostburg; Rev. William R. Snyder; Mrs. Lester McGill; Rev. Arthur Bastress; Willis V. Smith; Earle Bracey; Charles Wondt; Hubert Radcliffe, Mt. Savage; F. P. Alender; Robert A. Mathevs; Miss Nellie Kooker; Mrs. Genevieve Schaeffer, Flintstone; and Morris Baron in the adult group; and William Hahn Jr., Fort Hill; Carol Eaton, Bruce; Gordon Stevenson, Valley; Eugene Eagan, Beall; David Rowley, Fort Hill; Joseph McDade, LaSalle; and William Sitter, Allegany, student members.

From the board, joining a nine-man executive group with the four officers of the commission, are, Bracey; Father Bastress; Rev. Mr. Snyder; Rowley and Stevenson. Rounding out the executive committee are chairman George Henderson, vice chairman Edward McPartland, secretary Jennie Grahame, and treasurer John H. Jeffries.

The board and officers will retain their posts until the first annual meeting of the commission sometime in October when new officers and board members will be named and the commission by-laws will be drawn up.

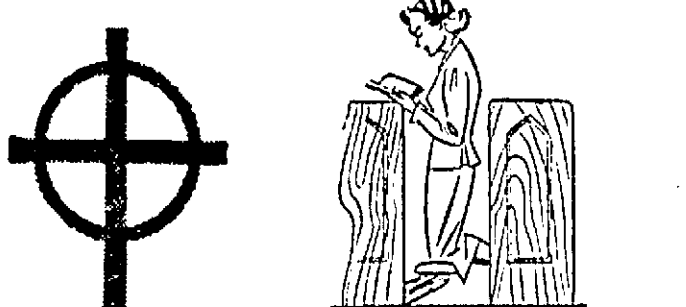

After defeat of a motion by William Sitter to have the board of directors composed of 10 adults and 10 younger members, the commission voted to approve 10 committee chairmen whose committees will be drawn up at a later date.

Committees and their chairmen are juvenile court, Mrs. Grace Douglas; probation, Frederick Shealy; employment, Francis Kenney; mental and physical health, Dr. Leo H. Ley, Jr.; detention, foster and institutional care, Mrs. Gordon Bowie; family counseling, Morris Baron; recreation, Albert S. Paye; police system, Harold Naughton; education, Mrs. G. Morgan Smith; and organized youth activities, Robert Pence.

Chairman Henderson said all interested persons who would like to be named on these working committees should contact the chairmen of the committees in which they are interested.

Approximately 60 persons attended last night's meeting.

Why Kneel To Pray?

One thing that puzzles an Episcopalian is to be asked, "Why do you kneel to pray in your church?" He's as likely to answer by asking in return, "Why not?"

To us it just seems natural that we should be on our knees during prayer. Prayer is a combination of elements. It consists of humble adoration of God, thanksgiving for His blessings to us, confession of sin and petition for forgiveness, supplication for help and intercession for our loved ones and the needs of the world.

And when you consider that in the Episcopal Church we use the Book of Common Prayer so that we may join together and not just sit back and let the minister pray for us, kneeling certainly is the natural thing.

If you'll stop to think, it makes sense. When you were a child, you learned to pray kneeling at your bedside. There are many fraternal orders in which it is customary for all the members to kneel while they are led in prayer by the chaplain. Why not kneel in church?

Here's a suggestion. Visit the Episcopal Church near you soon. Join in the service. Kneel with the congregation. The person near you will show you how to follow the service in the Prayer Book. You'll leave feeling as though "you've really been in church."

DuPont Head Optimistic Of Firm's Future

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — "We have nothing but optimism for our long term future," says Crawford H. Greenwalt, president of the DuPont Co.

Greenwalt expressed this view yesterday at the annual meeting. Despite first quarter sales 17 per cent below the same period in 1957, Greenwalt said considerable current evidence indicates a rising trend. He predicted 1958 sales may not be more than five per cent below last year.

DuPont is not cutting its construction program and there will be a "modest increase" in research expenditures over 1957, he added.

First quarter sales for 1958, Greenwalt said, totaled 415 million dollars. Earnings figures are not yet available.

Mamie's Mother Award Winner

NEW YORK—(JNS)—Mrs. John Doud, Mamie Eisenhower's mother, today was named "Mother-In-Law Of The Year."

The President's mother-in-law was chosen by the Mother-In-Law Day Committee. The "Day" will be celebrated Sunday, April 20.

The award to Mrs. Doud says she was chosen because "she fully exemplifies the qualities of understanding and devotion which contribute in such measure to the unity of the American family."

Small Dam Program Backed For Valley

By C. A. LANCASTER
Evening Times Staff Writer

Support of a plan of small retention dams in the upper waters of the South Branch of the Potomac River was voiced strongly as the answer to the conservation and flood control problem in that section of West Virginia.

This was the main sentiment of nearly every one of the more than 30 speakers at last night's public meeting in Moorefield called to get ideas on a comprehensive plan for the Potomac River.

At the same time, unanimous opposition was placed against any "high dam" plan which the Corps of Army Engineers might resurrect from a 1945-46 scheme to assure Washington of adequate water.

Town Hall Packed
Over 450 people packed the historic Town Hall in Moorefield, heart of the South Branch Valley.

And Hampshire County residents, who would be affected most by any revival of the 1945-46 plan, were there in force to voice opposition to it.

In fact, in a show of strength about 75 per cent of those attending stood up to reveal they were from Hampshire County.

The meeting was conducted by Col. George B. Sumner, district engineer for the Army Engineers who emphasized there is no plan now for the South Branch Valley.

The Army Engineers, and the Department of Agriculture's Soil Conservation Service and Forest Service will cooperate in making the survey of the Potomac River's watershed with the view toward conservation of water and flood control, he said.

To Use Old Data
He did not think technical data compiled in previous surveys will be used.

Col. Sumner observed that it appears from preliminary research that storage reservoirs will be placed in the Potomac River watershed, as the natural flow is not dependable for future water needs.

He commented that the Potomac is the only one of the nation's ten major rivers that does not have a comprehensive plan. (Editor's Note: The Potomac river has held for years the title of the most surveyed river in the nation.)

But the Army Engineers were not left in the dark as to the sentiments of the people of Hardy County on the "high dam" plan. William H. Ansel Jr., Romney lawyer, was spokesman for a county committee spearheading the opposition to the proposed Springfield dam plan.

Many Give Views
He noted that it appears from what little opposition the residents have available, the 1945-46 plan would be considered.

He then introduced the following spokesmen who read statements from their respective organizations:

J. Howard Rannells, president of the Fruit Growers Cooperative Storage Corporation.

R. L. Sumner, manager of the Mountain Fruit Sales Inc.

William Parker, Romney, president of the Hampshire County Farm Bureau.

Ronald Roby, chairman of the Hampshire County Farmers' Home Advisory Committee.

Louden L. Thompson, adjutant of Hampshire County Post 91, American Legion.

Mrs. David W. Long, president of the Pappocomo Farm Women's Club.

A. C. Loy, superintendent of Hampshire County schools.

Hugo F. Schunhoff, superintendent of the West Virginia Schools for the Deaf and Blind.

Orchards Most Important
George Herriot, president of the Hampshire County Court.

Campbell Pancake, Romney Lions Club.

Rev. Russell F. Burgess, of the Augusta Rural Club.

C. E. Bright Sr., Keyser, district sanitarian.

Lloyd Day, of the Potomac Valley Farm Loan and Production Credit Association.

Albert S. Paye, consulting engineer for Romney.

Rannells pointed out apple and peach growing is most important to Hampshire County's economy, and a cold storage plant owned by the cooperative he heads would be flooded by a proposed Springfield dam.

This is a key point for 112 fruit growers of Hampshire and Morgan Counties. He said 1,922,000 bushels were stored, this past year in the plant. He also listed other factors that would be harmful to the fruit industry.

His sentiments in regards to the apple and peach industry were echoed by Sumner, whose cooperative represents 212 growers.

Advantages Listed
Sumner said his organization was generally in accord with conservative methods for the river control as proposed by the Soil Conservation Service. This would result in little disruption of life in the South Branch Valley and accomplish the aims of the engineers' survey.

He cited advantages of this plan for the valley's recreational features, such as hunting and fishing, camping and summer life.

If a high dam plan is revived, Sumner said, it would result in the loss of the only cold storage plant in the county; loss of the B&O Railroad and resultant higher freight rates; (Continued on Page 14)

Washington Should Build Its Own Dams

Governor's Spokesman
Voices Viewpoint At Moorefield Meeting

The beginning of any series of dams in the Potomac River watershed should be in the Washington area, the representative of the Governor of West Virginia told the Corps of Army Engineers at a hearing last night in Moorefield.

The meeting had been called to receive the sentiments of the South Branch Valley on its part in a comprehensive plan for flood control, conservation of water, and future needs for water supply and pollution abatement in the Potomac River Basin.

Earle Andrews, Berkeley Springs, who represented Gov. Underwood, after hearing many statements read in opposition to a "high dam" plan on the South Branch, said "let's strike at the heart of the issue."

Up To Washington
"It seems apparent that the principal purpose of the Potomac River Basin is to supply the domestic needs of Metropolitan Washington."

"If high dams are built, put them down in the back yard of the people of Washington. They don't want high dams and we don't want them for the benefit of those people."

He commented that he was stating the general feeling of the people of the South Branch Valley.

Facts back up his statement as strenuous opposition has been shown to a plan to put a dam at Big Bend on the Potomac River near Washington.

Andrews also complimented Col. George B. Sumner of the Corps of Army Engineers for his approach to the beginning of the survey.

Savage Dam Mentioned
Col. Sumner read a report that on another survey of the river basin, which said the residents of the basin had no fixed ideas on a water development program, and added there was a diversity of opinion on what improvement was desired.

That, he said, was the report by L. Col. Peter C. Haines, Corps of Army Engineers in November 1948.

J. Paul Blundon, Keyser engineer, pointed to the great benefit received in the river basin from the Savage River Dam.

This impoundment, he said, has aided in a constant flow of water and more of this type of dam on the headwaters of the tributaries of the Potomac River would meet Washington's problems.

He added that a revival of the 1945-46 idea would affect Mineral County, denying it free access to the south.

Driver Fined In Auto Death

Brooks Ours, 33, Friendsville, was fined $100 and costs and given a six-month suspended sentence in the Maryland House of Correction this morning in Trial Magistrate Court.

Trial Magistrate J. Milton Dick passed sentence after finding Ours guilty of reckless driving in connection with an accident last week which claimed the life of Adam Willard Fazzenbaker, 45, also of Friendsville.

State Troopers Carlton Lewis and Willis Foreman of the Maryland State Police, who investigated the mishap, charged Ours with the motor count.

He entered a plea of guilty to the charge.

Three members of Fazzenbaker's family were also injured in the collision. Hospitalized following the crash were Mrs. Adams and her two sons, Adam R., 8, and Paul D. Fazzenbaker, 4.

Testimony in the case this morning revealed that Ours was driving the car in which the Fazzenbaker family was riding and it crashed into a concrete bridge on State Route 36 near Mt. Savage.

Tawes Draws Praise From J. L. Manning

Joseph L. Manning, Baltimore, a Democrat candidate for state comptroller, said today "many people are convinced that my nomination would strengthen the Tawes-Sybert combination when they ask for support from the electorate in the November election."

Manning, who is secretary-manager of the Maryland Grocers Association, said: "Mrs. Manning and I have enjoyed to the utmost our visit to Allegany County and the time spent with you will always be a red letter day in our lives."

"The hospitality of the people of Western Maryland will never be forgotten, and we are looking forward to returning within a short time. Even those who have made commitments to another candidate, were most gracious in greeting us."

"We have always believed that Millard Tawes is the best qualified man in public office to head our state government. We are convinced he would have won the Democratic nomination against all opposition."

"We do not question the sincerity or the high-minded purpose of the Democratic leaders who worked out the plan for the so-called harmony ticket. However, we do question their judgment and foresight. While gaining what seem to them to be a worthwhile objective, they failed to consider the fact that they might lose something of far greater value."

"Nothing is more important than maintaining the truly democratic procedure for selecting nominees for the party."

"At a later date I will return to Allegany County, and give you my views on the issues which will confront our next state administration."

He said if a candidate also has administrative ability and an intimate knowledge of people he can carry on the work of state comptroller, adding:

"If, however, his principal asset is his record of past political activities and success in running for office, he leaves much to be desired from a standpoint of the ordinary citizen who sees his tax burden increased and the value of his dollar and plane of living decreasing."

White Reported Improved From Cuts Of Arms

Henry J. White, 74, of 26 Greene Street, is reported "improved" today at Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted last night.

White was admitted to the hospital after losing a considerable amount of blood from two large cuts on his arms.

Det. Kenneth Morrissey and Officer Joseph Harvey said White apparently had inflicted the cuts with a small pocket penknife which he still held when police entered his home in response to an emergency call from a neighbor.

Officer Morrissey said Officer Harvey, who was directing traffic on Greene Street, was notified of the emergency by Mrs. William Hunter, 28 Greene Street, who reported White's wife was crying hysterically in front of her home.

Investigating, the two officers found White standing behind the furnace in the cellar, blood dripping from his arm. He held the knife in his hand. When the officers approached he ordered them from his house and struggled with them when they took the knife from him.

White was taken to the hospital in the police cruiser.

Haystack Fire Under Control

A spectacular fire on Haystack Mountain which started yesterday shortly after noon burned over 250 acres of woodlands before being brought under control early today.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said that crews are standing by to prevent the smoldering stumps and logs within the fire-blackened woods from flaring up again.

Johnson said the fire destroyed much young timber which was second growth. The area was timbered some years ago, he added. The fire did not burn very deep into the humus of the ground but leaves and brush burned away. The flames made quick headway in the slashings and brush, he pointed out.

Besides the volunteer firemen, crews from the Potomac Edison Company and C&A Gas Company assisted in patrolling the fire area. The utility workers were called out to protect power lines and gas lines. A group of boys from Forestry Camp 2 near Lonaconing is also aiding in the patrol work.

The alarm was sounded yesterday at 12:30 p. m. and after fire-fighters battled the blaze for more than 10 hours, it flared up again. The flames lighted up the countryside and were visible for many miles.

Seals were mailed to approximately 23,000 residents, and the league hopes for $12,000 to further its work with crippled children.

Debate Plans Hit Snag In Demo Contest

Various Candidates
Continue Battle To Win Over Voters

By The Associated Press

James Bruce, who yesterday accepted Clarence Long's invitation to a television debate on campaign issues, has withdrawn the offer. Bruce and Long are among the seven candidates for the Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate.

"The only response I received from my acceptance of Prof. Long's invitation was a mess of personal insults and irresponsible invective," Bruce said.

Not Fit For Viewing
"His contemptible standards of conduct are not fit for viewing on television or anywhere else, for that matter. I wouldn't want to be seen with him. He is beneath contempt. Maryland's standards of conduct are apparently beyond Prof. Long's standards, and I suggest he go back home to Indiana and run for office there."

In accepting Long's invitation to a TV debate, Bruce said that he would not share the cost, as Long suggested, since his campaign funds were already allocated.

Long said he would pay the entire cost of the televised debate but termed Bruce "a lightweight millionaire" who "spends more money on memberships in expensive clubs than I earn in a year as an economics professor."

Long made his debate challenge about two weeks ago to Bruce, George P. Mahoney and Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, all seeking the senatorial nomination.

Bruce On Shore
While Long was holding forth in Harford County, Bruce was on the Eastern Shore. Mahoney was in Southern Maryland and Comptroller J. Millard Tawes and a couple of other Democratic gubernatorial candidates were wooing the women's vote in Baltimore.

Mayor D'Alesandro called a momentary halt to his campaigning to toss out the first ball for the Baltimore Orioles' baseball opener at Memorial Stadium.

During the game, someone passed around a few thousand cards reading:

"Please remember the man who led the fight for our new stadium and big league baseball. Vote for Thomas D'Alesandro Jr."

Today, D'Alesandro, Tawes and their running mates on the self-styled "harmony" ticket headed for Washington County. They will be in Allegany County tomorrow.

Tawes Speaks
Addressing the League of Women Voters in Baltimore, besides Tawes, were two of his opponents for the Democratic nomination—Morgan L. Amiano and Joseph A. Phillips.

Tawes said that if elected governor, he would see that "absolutely every bit of fat is cut out of our state budget. We must relentlessly eliminate every waste, every extravagance, every luxury."

The comptroller's rapid-fire delivery put him through his speech just under the 10 minutes allowed for each candidate. Phillips was still on his feet when time ran out and was asked to sit down.

Phillips said he was the long-shot candidate who expected to "whisk through" the May 20 primary. He noted that a horse named Whisk Tru returned $464 for $2 in winning at Bowie March 22.

At Snow Hill in Worcester County, Bruce denounced President Eisenhower's recent veto of a bill to freeze farm price supports.

Employment Plan
Campaigning through the flat farmlands of the lower Eastern Shore, Bruce offered a six-point program of his own after condemning "the defeatist attitude of the Eisenhower administration in refusing to take effective action to assure the well-being of farm families."

Mahoney, before heading for Calvert and St. Marys counties, drummed on unemployment in Charles County for the second straight day.

Long had one of the busiest days. While D'Alesandro was tossing out the first ball at the Oriole game, he shook hands at an outside gate as the fans flocked to the ball park.

He had taught a class at Johns Hopkins in the morning. Later in the day, he appeared at a political question session of the United Christian Citizens in Baltimore, then went to Havre de Grace for more handshaking. Nightfall found him back in Baltimore filing his income tax return.

Sen. See is president of the Allegany-Garrett County Tuberculosis Association.

COLLECTION DAY TOMORROW

Youths Face Changes In Indictments

Judge Ernest A. See this morning in Mineral County (W. Va.) Circuit Court granted a request by the attorneys for six youths for postponement of their trials to the next term of court, but pointed out that the group would face felony charges at that time instead of misdemeanor counts.

The group was indicted Tuesday by the grand jury after a verbal battle between Judge See and Prosecuting Attorney Donald C. Holt in which the jurist insisted three of the Keyser area boys who had been called as material witnesses against the other three should also be indicted.

The boys, Fred Linaburg, Gary Burgess, Keith Maine, Francis Zacet, Linwood Thorne and Brian Wotring, were charged with assaulting Paul Roderick, 22, of Westernport, on March 24. Roderick was along a Piedmont Street when he was grabbed by one of the group as the car in which they were traveling pulled away.

The attorneys requested the postponement on the basis that they needed more time to prepare the cases.

Judge See will preside at a session of Juvenile Court on Friday, after which court will be continued until next Wednesday. Judge See explained that he will leave Friday night for Marlinton to attend a session of the West Virginia Circuit Court—Judges Association.

The grand jury has been called to meet again at 10 a. m. Monday to consider action on a case which was overlooked at its previous session. Prosecuting Attorney Holt informed court.

A number of not guilty pleas were entered at this morning's session, and a number of dates were set for trials.

Ridgeley Man Gets New Job

A native of Ridgeley, C. J. Wolfe, will become assistant vice president of mechanical operations on the Western Maryland Railway on May 1, it was announced today by George M. Leilich, vice president-operations.

Wolfe is a veteran of nearly 33 years service, starting here as an office boy June 1, 1905. He worked his way through the mechanical department to his present position, superintendent of motive power.

On May 1, George M. Beischer will become chief mechanical officer of the Western Maryland. He will have his offices in Hagerstown.

The title of superintendent of motive power held by Wolfe from April 1, 1935, to the present is being discontinued.

Wolfe will have his office at the headquarters of the railroad in Baltimore.

Beischer joined Western Maryland on January 1 as assistant superintendent of motive power. He formerly had been assistant mechanical superintendent of the New York Central's Western District at Cleveland, Ohio.

damage to mountain orchards from excess moisture aiding the spread of fungus diseases; create a tax burden resulting from valuable farm land being inundated, and the creation of Hampshire County as a dead end area.

Parker listed damage from recent floods, and maintained they would have been minimized had there been small retention dams in the South Branch headwaters.

Suggests Ocean Use

He said that if Washington wanted to be assured a steady supply of water, it should utilize converted ocean water, which is readily accessible to that vicinity.

He also pointed out Route 50, would have to be relocated outside the county.

Robey stated that 80 per cent of the Class I and 2 farm land in Hampshire County would be inundated by a Springfield dam.

Loy said any such dam would cripple the school system, cutting off 500 to 600 students from their consolidated schools. New buildings costing from a total of $150,000 to $300,000 would have to be furnished.

He added approximately $3,000,000 would be removed from the land records in real estate tax assessments.

He explained that all his statements were predicated on the high dam plan.

Bright pointed to the danger of malaria from the mud flats which would exist in what is now bottom land during times when the dam would be low.

CUMBERLAND FROSTBURG KEYSER

The Pittsburgh Pirates have a lineup which has tremendous hitting potential. For it is a club which is blessed with youthful experience and desire. It is also a club with a good deal of ability.

Many of the experts who saw the Bucs in action during spring training felt that the Pirates had a good-hitting team, boasting as many as eight men who could hit .300 or over.

When you look over the men who are in the starting Pirate lineup, it is easy to agree with the experts. Among the eight who opened the campaign for the Bucs are five who already have hit the magic figure in batting in the National League.

Most noted of all, of course, is big Ted Kluszewski who accomplished the .300 feat seven of the ten years he's been in the National League. In fact, Big Klu turned the rather-difficult trick five straight times from 1952 through 1956.

George Sisler, the Hall-of-Famer who is battling coach for the Bucs, feels the Pirates haven't reached their full potential. "I feel that men like Bill Virdon, Dick Groat, Roberto Clemente and Bob Skinner can hit .300 again in this league."

"A young player like Bill Mazeroski has tremendous potential," Sisler pointed out. "Last year, for example, he raised his average 40 points and there is no doubt in my mind that both Bill and Hank Foiles could move into the .300 category this year." Foiles was batting over .300 last year for a spell, but injuries tailed him down to his final .270.

Two years ago, Virdon's .319 was second-best in the NL, while Clemente's .311 was third-high. "There's no reason in the world why both of them can't duplicate those figures again. They're good hitters," Sisler added.

Frank Thomas, the Bucs' big home run slugger, never has batted .300 since breaking into the National League in '53, although he has missed the magic figure twice, hitting .298 and .290. The Pirates never have been lacking for hits; it's been the quality that they've been seeking to increase. With Big Klu available for regular duty and ready to team up with Thomas and an ever-improving Skinner, the Pirates are certain to have more consistent power in their lineup than in any recent season.

Groat's .315 was the fifth best batting mark in the National League last year, and he undoubtedly would have finished with a higher average had he not been injured. Dick is constantly rising as a hitter, and he could lead the NL in batting.

One thing seems fairly certain this year. The Pirates will have increased extra-base power — which means more runs and more victories. This combination could move the Pirates right up the National League ladder.

Many of the experts think it will!

Sports Keg Residue

Nat Fleischer, boxing's foremost historian, lists Cumberland's Fay Keiser as having fought only 85 professional bouts but Fay said he took part in 179 battles . . . Keiser, who is recuperating at home following a delicate operation two months ago at the VA Center in Martinsburg, also has the distinction of never having been knocked out . . . In the 11th and final meeting between Keiser and the fabulous Harry Greb, a battle before 12,000 fans in Baltimore in 1924, Fay didn't answer the bell for the 13th round . . . "Greb hadn't hurt me up to that point but I hadn't fought in a year and wasn't in top physical condition. I just didn't want to take a chance on being counted out for the first time that late in my career," Keiser said . . . Fay, who was outwitted 172 to 156 by Greb in that middleweight championship scrap, fought only two fights after that . . . If any profit is realized from the state novice amateur boxing championships to be held here the next two Saturday nights, it will go towards the purchase of athletic equipment for the Cumberland Police Boys Club . . . That's the word from officer John Daum, director of the PBC . . . Daum also reports that the second floor of the old City Furniture Store, site of the upcoming bouts, is "just about ready."

A refreshment stand is being prepared and rest rooms will be available for patrons . . . A fire escape is also being erected which can be used as an exit after the bouts . . . The bands, the brass and the bunting—all a tradition at part of opening day at Forbes Field—will take a back seat Friday to No. 3 in the Pittsburgh Pirates' lineup . . . That, of course, is big Ted Kluszewski, who has been playing as though his back troubles are all behind him . . . If he can keep up the pace through 100 games, he could (Continued on Page 17)

Four Shutouts Highlight Big League Openers

Giants Win Golden Gate Heart With 8-0 Victory

By FRED DE LUCA
INS Sports Writer

From Nob Hill to Market Street, San Franciscans are singing the praises of their Giants, who staged a brilliant opening day show to capture the heart of the Golden Gate metropolis.

Behind the six-hit pitching of Ruben Gomez, the Giants took an 8-0 victory from the Los Angeles Dodgers that was so effortless the sophisticated natives of San Francisco sounded like old New Yorkers as they called the former Brooks, "Dom Bums." Gomez' shutout was not the only blanking of the day as eight openers were held from Boston to San Francisco to begin the 1958 major league season on a coast-to-coast basis.

Pirates Beat Braves
Don Larsen of New York and Ned Garver of Kansas City also wielded the whitewash brush and to climax the big day, four Chicago Cub hurlers combined to blank St. Louis.

Meanwhile, the world champion Milwaukee Braves started the new season poorly by dropping a 4-0, 14-inning decision to the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Gomez was nothing less than magnificent as he bested young Don Drysdale. The Giant right-hander opened and closed the game with strikeouts and singled twice to score one run and drive in another.

His first hit set up a two-run rally in the third and his second kept a four-run outburst going in the fourth inning. Daryl Spencer and rookie Orlando Cepeda homered and Willie Mays came up with two hits to drive in a pair of runs.

The Giants fielded flawlessly and gave the crowd of 23,448, including commissioner Ford Frick and other notables, no reason for dissatisfaction throughout the day at Seals Stadium.

In other National League games, Philadelphia nipped the Redlegs, 5 to 4, before a crowd of 32,849 at Cincinnati. The Cubs beat St. Louis, 4 to 0, in a night game watched by a record 26,246 fans as Jim Brosnan and three relievers held the Cards to seven hits.

Yanks Blank Bosox
In the American League, Larsen's four-hit pitching gave New York's defending champs a 3-0 win at Boston before 35,223. Jim Bunning outpitched Billy Pierce as Detroit topped the White Sox, 4 to 3, at Chicago in view of 23,319 fans. Garver's seventh-inning home run gave the Yankees a 5-0 triumph over the Indians at Cleveland which had an attendance of 35,207. A crowd of 34,377 showed up at Baltimore to watch the Orioles whip Washington, 6 to 1.

All four hits off Larsen were singles. Willard Nixon gave the Yanks one hit until the seventh when Mickey Mantle walked and Yogi Berra homered. A pair of doubles gave the Yanks their third run of the inning.

The three runs off Bunning were unearned. The Tiger righty, who won 20 last year as did Pierce, belted two doubles and scored the deciding run on Billy Martin's seventh-inning single. Ray Boone and Harvey Kuenn homered for Detroit and Sherm Lollar hit a two-run clout for Chicago.

Herb Score Beaten
Kansas City beat Herb Score, who was making his first big league start since nearly losing an eye last May. Bob Cerv drove in two KC runs with a single and double.

Billy O'Dell of Baltimore pitched 4 1/2 hitless innings to defeat Washington and Camilo Pascual, Guss Triandos slugged a two-run homer for the winners.

The top crowd of the day—43,339—turned out in Milwaukee to see the world champs. Ed Matthews of the Braves homered his first two times up against Bob Friend but the Pirates sent the game into overtime against Warren Spahn. A double by Dick Groat and a single by rookie Ron Blackburn, another Pirate rookie, was the winner.

Philadelphia's winning run came in the eighth off Bill Wright when Ted Kazanski singled in Chuck Essegian. Rookie reliever Ray Semproch was the victor.

Brosnan was credited with the Cub win but he and Dolan Nichols, Ed Mayer and Don Elston all pitched in the seventh. The Cards had the bases loaded with none out, just as they did in the fifth, but they could not score. Wilmer Mizell lost and Cal Neeman homered for the Cubs.

A personal triumph was registered by Stan Musial when he singled to tie the National League career total base record of 5,041 held by Mel Ott of the Giants.

Colts' Scrimmage Tilt Scheduled For Aug. 11

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts will hold their annual formal scrimmage in Memorial Stadium Monday, Aug. 11, it was announced Saturday.

The scrimmage has been a highly successful money raiser for the benefit of the Baltimore Police Boys' Clubs. Seats cost $1 on a first-come-first-served basis and last year 42,000 tickets were sold.

LOGAN OUT STEALING — Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves was out on this attempted steal in the 14th inning yesterday. The Milwaukee shortstop spilled Pittsburgh Pirate second baseman Gene Baker but Baker applied the tag after taking throw from catcher Hank Foiles. Umpire is Stan Landes. The Pirates upset the world champions, 4 to 3, to spoil the Braves' home opener before the day's largest major league crowd. (AP Photofax)

City Schools Cop Openers In County Baseball League

Yesterday was "Cumberland Day" in the Allegheny County Interscholastic League baseball openers as all three of the city schools came through with victories on foreign fields.

Defending-champion Fort Hill whipped Mt. Savage, 8-3; LaSalle whipped Valley at Barton, 8-2, and Allegheny set down Bruce, 6-2, at Westport. All three local hurlers went the distance.

One game was postponed because of the soggy condition of the field. Flintstone and Beall having their opener reset for this afternoon, 4 o'clock, at Frostburg.

City Clash Friday
With both the Explorers and Sentinels marking up wins, it sets the stage for their intra-city clash Friday at Fort Hill. The Sentinels are also the defending city champs, having swept LaSalle last spring and split with Alco. Jim "Ducky" Paige got the nod over Mt. Savage tosser lefty Wayne Flegle at Savage. Paige and Flegle both gave up eight hits while Paige whiffed six and walked five. Flegle moved down seven on strikes and issued seven passes.

Catcher Gary Wolford, last year's batting champion for the Sentinels, got the locals away to a 2-0 lead when he poked a homer with Tom Shaw aboard in the first. The Indians came back with two in their half of the frame to knot it at 2-2.

Coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh's swatters put the game away in the sixth with four runs and added two more in the seventh. Ed die Weaver paced the Sentinel attack with a pair of doubles and a single while Fay Often and Bill Burkett took two apiece for the Indians. Flegle and Carl Slonaker had triples.

Alco Rallies To Win
Alco, in coach Chet Payne's debut, put on a four-run rally in the seventh to snap a 2-2 deadlock and win over Bruce to break up a pitching duel between Jack Cranor and Lynn Morris. Singles by Bob Stephens, "Baldy" Powell and Gene Willett, coupled with a walk and two fielding errors by Bruce produced the Alco markers. Morris was replaced by McIntyre during the up.

Charleston Selected For WVU-Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP)—West Virginia University and the University of Virginia will play a basketball game here next Dec. 13.

The two teams are scheduled to meet in Charleston's new Civic Center, now in the process of being completed. The contact is Virginia's home game and arrangements for its transfer from Charlottesville to here were made by Bob Kent, Civic Center Manager, who announced the switch Saturday.

Trio Of ACC Leaders Risks Perfect Mark

By The Associated Press

The three front-runners in the Atlantic Coast Conference basketball race put their unbeaten league records in the balance today as Clemson's Tigers (5-0) meet North Carolina State's Wolfpack (3-0) and Duke's Blue Devils (4-0) take on North Carolina's Tar Heels (1-1).

Also on tap is Wake Forest at Virginia Tech of the Southern Conference.

The Tigers boosted their ACC stock yesterday with a 13-4 shellacking of Maryland's Terrapins on 16 hits. Clemson paraded five runs across the plate in the second inning on two homers and then added some more insurance, including a four-run fifth frame.

The Terrapins, now 1-4 in the ACC, mustered a pair of tallies in the sixth and ninth innings as Don Henderson took his first loss and Ed Lakey collected his third win of the season against one loss.

Charlotteville, Va., was the scene of an iron-man performance. Righthander Herb Bush collected both ends of a twin bill as the Cavaliers raked South Carolina 3-0 and 7-3.

Busch, going the distance in both seven-inning contests, yielded only one earned run and allowed five hits as he struck out 13 during the afternoon. The wins gave Virginia a 2-4 ACC mark, taking the Cavaliers out of the winless ranks, while dropping South Carolina to a 1-6 league record.

Hyndman Opens By Edging Bisons

Hyndman opened its bid for the Bedford County Baseball League title yesterday as the Hornets, behind the five-hit pitching of lefty Gary Lehman, whipped Bedford High, 6-5, on the Bison's diamond.

The Hornets broke a 5-5 tie with the winning run in the eighth as relief hurler Oliver walked Ray Brown with the bases loaded. Lehman also had two of the Hornets' seven safeties.

Charleston Selected For WVU-Virginia

CHARLESTON (AP)—West Virginia University and the University of Virginia will play a basketball game here next Dec. 13.

The two teams are scheduled to meet in Charleston's new Civic Center, now in the process of being completed. The contact is Virginia's home game and arrangements for its transfer from Charlottesville to here were made by Bob Kent, Civic Center Manager, who announced the switch Saturday.

Player Of Day Larsen Back In Groove, Firing Blanks

By International News Service

Don Larsen, baseball's Mr. Perfect, is back in his almost impeccable groove.

The tall righthander of the New York Yankees astounded the baseball world in 1956 when he pitched the first perfect no-hit game in the history of the World Series.

The 28-year-old hurler from San Diego, Calif., was a little less than perfect last year even though he had a fine won-lost record of 10-and-4.

Few people remember but he was the losing pitcher in the seventh and final game of the 1957 series, as Lew Burdette showed the Yankees that they had no patent on perfection.

Larsen, who stand six-four and weighs 225, is Casey Stengel's pitching pet and was carefully groomed by the manager for yesterday's opening-day assignment in Boston.

Larsen didn't fail Stengel. He shut out the Red Sox, 3 to 0, on four hits, all of them singles. He also allowed three walks but two Yankee double plays eased him through trouble spots.

Larsen started his professional career in 1947 and reached the majors in 1953. The following year he was baseball's losingest pitcher with a miserable 3-and-21 record. Then he was traded to the Yankees and his transformation into Mr. Perfect began.

New Clubs Added To WVU's Card

MORGANTOWN (AP)—West Virginia University will open defense of its mythical national basketball championship next Dec. 1 in a Southern Conference game at Furman.

The Mountaineers have 26 scheduled games, including a return to the University of Kentucky Invitational Tournament at Lexington. WVU will meet 11 conference opponents prior to the annual league tournament at Richmond, Va., Feb. 26-28.

Newcomers to the schedule announced by Athletic Director Robert N. (Red) Brown include Northwestern, Holy Cross, The Citadel, Tennessee and Western Kentucky.

West Virginia also is assured of meeting another foe it did not play in 1957-58 in the Kentucky event. Besides the host Wildcats, Ohio State and Oklahoma State are potential tourney opponents.

The 1958-59 Mountaineers' schedule, with conference games designated by N, include:

Dec. 1—At Furman; N; 2—Virginia Military Institute at Bluefield; N; 6—Penn State; 3—The Citadel; N; 12—Duke; 13—Virginia at Charleston; 15—Richmond; N; 19-20—Kentucky Invitational Tournament at Lexington; 21—Northwestern at Chicago; 23—At Tennessee.

Jan. 2—Yale; 5—Furman; N; 8—At Penn State; 10—At Canisius; 13—William & Mary; N; 24—Western Kentucky at Louisville; R; 30—William & Mary at Norfolk; V; 31—At George Washington.

Feb. 3—Pittsburgh; 7—Holy Cross; 12—At New York University; 13—At Richmond; N; 16—Virginia Military; N; 18—At Pittsburgh; 21—George Washington; N; 26-28—Southern Conference Tournament.

Rookies Have Great Day In Senior League

By The Associated Press

The rookies had themselves a day as the National League, now a coast-to-coast network, opened the 1958 season.

Three rookies ruined Milwaukee's debut before the major's top crowd yesterday, 43,339, at County Stadium. Ron Blackburn and Curt Raydon, a couple of kid right-handers, blanked the Braves over the last four frames, and R. Stevens singled the winning run home in a 14-inning, 43 victory for the Pittsburgh Pirates.

At San Francisco, rookies Jim Davenport and Orlando Cepeda showed few jitters at the plate while backing up veteran Ruben Gomez's six-hit, 8-0 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Eddie's Homers Wasted

Chuck Essegian and Ray Semproch were big guns as Philadelphia cracked Cincinnati 5-4. And Dolan Nichols and Ed Mayer, though working but briefly, got in on a four-pitcher shutout as the Chicago Cubs whipped the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 in the lone night game opener in either league.

The Pirates, overcoming Ed Mathews' two home runs, managed a 3-3 tie against Warren Spahn, the NL's lone 20-game winner last season, before he gave up at the end of nine innings. Gene Conley was the loser, giving up a two-out double to Dick Groat, a single to Bob Skinner and then the payoff single to first baseman Stevens.

Davenport, taking over at third for the Giants, singled twice, scored twice and drove in a run for the Giants, playing before a crowd of 23,448—all the Seals Stadium can hold.

Gomez fanned six, walked six and drove in a run as the Giants rapped starter-loser Don Drysdale and two relievers for 11 hits.

Musical Ties Record

Jim Brosnan was the winner at St. Louis. Nichols, Mayer and Don Elston all got into the act in the seventh to preserve the shutout. Chicago belted Wilmer (Vincegar Bend) Mizell for three runs and seven hits in the first three frames.

The crowd of 26,246, a record for a night game opener at St. Louis, saw Stan Musial tie the NL's total bases record in the National League with a single in five trips for a total of 5,041.

Essegian, a rookie in left field, doubled twice, scored twice and drove in a run for the Phils, who blew a three-run lead before finally wrapping it up before an overflow crowd of 32,849 at Cincinnati. Semproch, coming on after the Redlegs scored four in the sixth against Robin Roberts to gain the lead, pitched one-hit, shutout ball the rest of the way.

A walk and singles by Wally Post, the ex-Red, and Ted Kazaniski got the winning run home in the eighth off reliever Bill Wright.

Campy Telegram Fails To Work

GLEN COVE, N. Y.—(INS)—

Roy Campanella, out of uniform for an opener for the first time in ten years, wired his Dodgers teammates in California yesterday to say, "I'm still with you."

The telegram, read to the Dodgers before they took the field to meet San Francisco Giants, said:

"Although I am unable to be there, I'm still with you. Here's hoping today's opening game will start a great team off to a most successful season, Campy."

But the telegram didn't work for the veteran catcher, who has been hospitalized since January 28 as a result of an auto accident which left him paralyzed.

Ted Dodgers lost, 8 to 0.

Berra's Wish Comes True With Homer

BOSTON (AP)—Yogi Berra, who nailed down a starting berth only two days earlier, has set the New York Yankees' pennant bid in motion with a home run he wished on himself.

Berra belted a two-run drive off the screen near the top of the right field foul pole yesterday as the Yankees opened their 1958 American League season to the tune of 3-0 over Boston.

Though he never has slipped from his rating as top New York catcher, Berra was sidelined for 13 days by a split hand during spring training. Manager Casey Stengel was ready to use Elston Howard behind the plate if Yogi wasn't ready.

Berra proved himself by going a full nine innings Sunday and his starting assignment was assured. As the New York team prepared to take the field in search of its ninth AL flag in 10 years, Berra was talking in the dugout to pitcher Whitey Ford.

"That little corner in right field is something," Yogi said pointing to the alcove where the foul pole is located before the stands dip back behind it.

"I remember seeing Billy Goodman hittin' one there that beat Johnny Sain," Berra continued. "I've never put one in that spot in my life. I'd like to be able to do it just once."

Berra did it just once — in the seventh inning — after Mickey Mantle had drawn a walk from Willard Nixon.

Bruins Even Series With 3-1 Triumph

BOSTON—(INS)—The Boston Bruins who fought back to a 2-2 tie with the Montreal Canadiens in the Stanley Cup playoffs, today were enroute to Montreal for the fifth contest of the best-of-seven series.

The Bruins evened the series last night at Boston Garden with a 3-1 victory over the Canadiens in bruising game, featured by two goals by Don McKenney and two assists by Fleming Mackell. The assists were McKenney's 13th and 14th in the playoffs and set a new National Hockey League record.

Jerry Toppazzini scored the other Boston goal, his ninth in the series, for a club record. The assist record of 12 was set by Elmer Lach of Montreal and Ted Lindsay of Detroit in nine games in the 1945-46 playoffs. Mackell has broken the record in seven games.

Toppazzini broke the Boston goal-scoring record in playoff games that was set by Eddie Sandford who got eight goals against Detroit and Montreal in 1933.

Another sellout crowd of 13,909 saw the Bruins outskate and outrough the Canadiens as they completely bottled up Maurice "Rocket" Richard and held him scoreless.

McKenney's two goals were in the first and second period—when Canadian defenseman Dollard St. Laurent was in the penalty box.

"Topper" got the third Boston goal at 2:30 of the final period on a 16-footer when Mackell stole the puck from Al Langlois, Canadian defenseman.

Grand Jurors Indict Paugh For Murder

KEYSER — A 17-year-old Elk Garden youth who stabbed his father to death during a family argument March 31 was indicted for murder yesterday by the Mineral County Circuit Court grand jury which did not conclude its duties until 7:30 p. m.

Joseph Edward Paugh was indicted on a charge of slaying his father, Clarence Ernest Paugh, 56, who died within moments after being stabbed, according to West Virginia State Police.

The grand jurors were placed in the midst of a controversy yesterday between Judge Ernest A. See and Prosecuting Attorney Donald C. Hoti, and sided with the judge.

Judge See, who was described as obviously angry when he delivered his charge to the grand jury, urged the jurors to indict six Keyser area boys involved in a series of escapades in and around Piedmont March 24. Hoti had brought charges against only three and had called the other three as material witnesses.

The grand jurors agreed with Judge See and indicted all six participants on a charge of assaulting Paul Roderick, 23, of Westernport, who was dragged along a Piedmont street when one of the six grabbed Roderick the night of March 24 and the driver pulled away. Roderick was reported on his way home from work at the time.

Named in the indictment were Francis Zacet, Fred Linaburg and Byron Wolting, originally bound over to the grand jury, as well as Gary Burgess, Keith Maine and Linwood Thorne who had been called as material witnesses. All were charged with assaulting Roderick.

Other indictments: Frank Robert Selders, theft of $33; Richard Lee Junkins, theft of tires and wheels valued at $92 and burglary in which $63 was stolen; Donald R. Black, theft of $70 watch; Black and Howard William Gordon, theft of a box of tools valued at $400; Stella Rhodes and Richard Henry Rhodes, abandonment of three children between the ages of 4 and 15; Eula Waybright, disposal of a $129 washing machine which the state says did not belong to her; Mary Woods, theft of $400 box of tools belonging to Glen Odell Davis; and Cecil Borror, contributing to the delinquency of a 15-year-old girl.

Bloodmobile Unit To Visit Hampshire Area April 30

ROMNEY — The Red Cross Bloodmobile unit will be at Romney Presbyterian Church Wednesday, April 30, from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m.

The quota has been set at 150 pints. During the last visit, 116 pints were given. The shortage amounted to 34 pints.

With Hampshire Memorial Hospital set to open in a few months, Red Cross leaders here state that it is important that Romney meet its quota since it is likely that hospital will depend on the Washington Regional Blood Center for its supply of blood. Hospitals in Martinsburg and Winchester receive blood from the center.

The unit that visits Romney comes from Washington.

Bids Scheduled
The Soil Conservation Service office here reports that sealed bids for the construction of two flood retaining dams on the New Creek watershed will be received at the SCS state office in Morantown until 2 p. m. May 1. The dams are to be completed in 1959 calendar days.

Interested bidders may visit the sites, beginning at 10:30 a. m. (EST) Monday. Interested parties will meet at the Soil Conservation Service office in Keyser that day.

The Soil Conservation Service also has formulated plans for aiding farmers along major highways in the stabilization of critically eroded land. Land along the highways will be more attractive when stabilization measures are instituted.

Charles Dayton, Junction, whose farm lies along U. S. Route 50, has applied for cost sharing in a tree planting practice for four acres of eroded land on his farm. Three thousand trees are being planted on the eroded land.

The SCS will construct a 600-foot diversion ditch above the area to protect it from run-off water, and will also fill the worst gullies in the field.

The national Jaycee official, an attorney, was Indiana state president of the Jaycees and a member of the national policy committee prior to becoming president. Currently, Shearer is devoting a year to the advancement of the Junior Chamber of Commerce organization and, with his family, lives in Tulsa, Okla., national Jaycee headquarters city. Among other Jaycee honors, Shearer was named one of the three outstanding young men of Indiana in 1956.

Local Jaycees, as in former years, will give a luncheon honoring their national president at the George Washington Hotel the second day of the festival. He will also ride as a guest in the grand feature parade the same day at 2 p.m.

Rotary Club
Meeting Held

FROSTBURG — Cmdr. Richard L. Underwood, new commanding officer of the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center in Cumberland, spoke at this week's meeting of the Frostburg Rotary Club held in the Sunday School room of Zion United Church of Christ.

He explained how men for the submarine service are screened and trained for highly specialized jobs. A short movie showed the development of the submarine prior to World War I, during World War II and the present fleet. Submarines are developed today, Underwood said, for jobs such as radar defense, the firing of missiles, hunting down other or enemy subs, reconnaissance and the new atomic subs which can put to sea and stay submerged as long as their food supply will last.

Presenting the program as chairman was Maurice Treacy. Next week's meeting will be in charge of Earl Kreitzburg.

Visitors present were Ralph Nevy, Miles G. Thompson Jr., and John Wilson, Cumberland, and John Dunn, Grantsville, and Charles Daniels and Cecil Inscho, Lonaconing. Frank DeFrehn, of Ocala, Fla., was guest.

Willard L. Hawkins, county superintendent of schools, said the estimated cost of the three projects would be in the neighborhood of $100,000. He told the board that over $400,000 remained in the school construction fund for use in the county which could be borrowed and paid back at a low rate of interest over a period of 15 years. He also reported that payment on present school bonds was being made at the rate of about $160,000 annually.

The board also considered the need for an additional room at Yoder School due to increased enrollment there. He said the board considered favorably all of these projects as soon as suitable financing can be arranged.

The Swan Meadow building committee group is making satisfactory progress in its plan to build for that community a new two-room school building. Construction is being done by a group of people of the community.

Following adjournment, board members inspected the work being done on the annex building.

Course In Rifle Training
Staged At Potomac State

KEYSER — A rifle training course for Explorer Scouts of boys; Post 86 of Piedmont, two; Tri-Valley District was provided by the members of the ROTC Department of Potomac State College recently in the college gymnasium. Representatives from Potomac, three; Troop 34 of Piedmont, three; Troop 30 of Westernport, six; Troop 38 of McCoole, two, and Troop 40 of Elk Garden, 10. No additional boys will be permitted to register.

An overflow enrollment of 61 Explorers has necessitated a revision of the three-afternoon program. The second session will be held Saturday, April 19. The modification will send the more experienced boys to the rifle range to fire for record. Sgt. Cecil Roy, who will have charge of all range procedure, estimates that the practice firing and the qualification procedure will consume one and one-half hours. Five boys will fire simultaneously. Present plans call for the third period to be held Saturday, May 3. Additional time will be set up for range work.

Capt. Jack C. Fessenden was in charge of the training classes while Capt. Thomas McBride, Sfc. Donald W. Breneman, and Master Sgt. Robert N. Good presented parts of the instruction. Two members of the ROTC Corps, Donald Klinefelter and Robert Mindrop, demonstrated proper procedure.

The first two hours were spent in 20-minute classes which covered sighting, aiming, sling adjustment, positions, trigger squeeze, proper breathing, triangulation and safety. The last hour was devoted to practice with weapons.

Valuable property for sale. 283 East Main Street. Brick dwelling, modern conveniences. 3 car garage, excellent location. The all vacancies could be filled with teachers with full certification. Frostburg after 6 p. m. Also first floor apartments for rent. —Adv. N-T Apr. 16

Previous Winners Cop Major Emmy Awards

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Television, in announcing its annual Emmy awards last night, demonstrated that to the members of the industry, nothing wins like a previous winner.

There were 22 awards for 1957 on the special 90-minute program of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences telecast by NBC-TV. All but three of the winning programs had received Emmy awards previously, several of them many times.

The backbone of network programming in the past year was composed of Westerns, quiz shows, musicals and suspense dramas.

It was therefore interesting to observe that only one Western, Gunsmoke (CBS), won an Emmy.

The only musical variety show cited was a previous winner, the Dinah Shore Show (NBC), which reaped three awards. No quiz show personality was voted a winner. The only suspense drama cited was Alfred Hitchcock Presents (CBS), which won an award two years ago.

Besides Gunsmoke the other first-time winners were a situation comedy, the Bob Cummings Show (NBC), and Playhouse of Stars (CBS), a half-hour drama series. Playhouse 90 (CBS) won four awards in various categories, the largest number of any program. For 1956, it won six awards.

Omnibus (NBC), recipient of several previous awards, won three last night. The Phil Silvers Show (CBS) won two — and raised its total to nine.

In short, the industry apparently decided that generally the best entertainment of 1957 was to be found on programs which were strong in the previous years.

As entertainment, the program was dull and technically inept. The first 20 minutes were wasted in largely intramural sports that were passed off as humorous. The exception of the show was Milton Berle, who deserved some kind of an award for creating laughter while ducking the invisible hook that tried to drag him offstage. It is difficult to find much of television historical significance in the 1957 Emmy Awards. It was even more difficult to find entertainment in the program.

Weekly Predicts Steel Production

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Iron Age, national metalworking weekly, says Pittsburgh district steel production is expected to move up slightly this week while Youngstown, Ohio, and upper Ohio River district steel mills are expected to show a decline compared to last week.

Pittsburgh district mills are expected to operate at 50.5 per cent of capacity this week compared to 48.5 last week. Youngstown mills are expected to produce 33.5 per cent of capacity, down four points, and Upper Ohio River mills 63.5 per cent, a drop of 9.5 points from last week.

New Jersey was ruled by the Dutch from 1653 to 1664 and again in 1673-74.

FIRST DAY—Evitts Creek was, in effect, "loaded to the gills" yesterday with trout fishermen as the first day of the season arrived. Ideal, warm weather added to the zest of the anglers who have been dreaming of this day during the past long and hard winter. Above is a scene along Evitts Creek near Baltimore Pike yesterday morning, which depicts the crowded condition along the banks. The season will be long, running to next March.

Hazelwood Low Bidder On SRC Job

The George F. Hazelwood Company was the apparent low bidder yesterday as the Maryland State Roads Commission opened bids on a Garrett County road project.

The local firm submitted a bid of $1,257,510 for the 5.788-mile project on Routes 219 and 135.

Burkholder and Burkholder, Washington, was the apparent second at $1,274,679, and T. Edgie Russell, Frederick, third with $1,348,258.

The project includes the grading, draining and surfacing of Route 219 from Gortner northwesterly to Oakland, a distance of 4.036 miles, and similar improvements to a 1.753-mile stretch of Route 135 from Mt. Lake Park northwesterly to Oakland.

During February, the SRC opened bids on the project and Burkholder and Burkholder was the apparent low with a bid of $1,269,269. Hazelwood was second, with $1,295,325 and Russell third with a bid of $1,457,289.

The commission decided to re-advertise for the bids opened yesterday after some errors and discrepancies were found in the apparent low bid and in information furnished to the contractor.

George Firm Bids Low On ABL Work

The George Construction Company was the apparent low bidder with an offer of $27,735 on construction work at the Allegany Ballistics Laboratory at Pinto.

John Quincy Adams, manager of the contract branch of the Fifth Naval District public works office, said no award has been made for building a case bonding facility at the plant which will be a prefabricated steel building to be erected on prepared foundations.

Dry leftover slices of stale bread in a slow oven until crisp and lightly browned, then put through the fine blade of a food chopper for uniform crumbs.

Hospital Group Opens Bids On Scheduled Construction

The John I. Vandegrift Company was the apparent low bidder yesterday for the construction of a two-story addition to the south wing of Memorial Hospital.

The local firm bid $129,235 for the construction project, planned to provide new X-ray and laboratory quarters for the hospital.

Other bids, opened yesterday by the hospital's board of governors, indicated the George Construction Company was second, at $130,839, and the George F. Hazelwood Company third with a bid of $134,170.

The board of governors will meet Friday at 4 p.m. to award the contract.

The major source of funds for the addition to the hospital's contagious disease wing will be a $120,000 grant from the Ford Foundation. Additional funds needed to build and equip the addition will come from the hospital's reserves, according to John A. Moberly, superintendent.

The second floor of the addition will be used for X-ray facilities and the third floor for a new laboratory. Quarters now being used for the X-ray and laboratory were designed when the hospital had 120 beds and offered no possibilities of expansion to meet current needs of the hospital, which now has 254 beds and up to 35 bassinets.

Petitions Dropped Against Communists

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Justice Dept. yesterday dropped Federal petitions to revoke the citizenship of seven persons charged with concealing their membership in the Communist Party when they applied for naturalization papers.

Included among the seven was Steve Nelson, former head of the Communist Party in Western Pennsylvania.
